Dear State Chamber member,

I know that many of you belong to groups, companies or organizations that routinely visit Juneau during the legislative session. As Mayor of Juneau I wanted to reach out to you about the upcoming legislative session and COVID mitigation measures and impacts. First, let me welcome you to your Capital City. Our city is open and you are welcome here. Your visits are an important part of government policy making and facilitating those visits is an important responsibility as hosts of the Capital.

You can find the latest Juneau COVID mitigation information here: CBJ COVID-19 Information – City and Borough of Juneau. (The State Capitol may have its own requirements separate from Juneau's.) We also have the ability to offer exemptions to the mitigation measures and encourage you to reach out if you are planning an event during session and want to discuss options or exemptions that will help facilitate your event. If you have questions, please contact the CBJ City Manager's Office at (907) 586-5240 to be connected to the Emergency Operations Center, or email COVIDquestions@juneau.org.

Our restaurants are open and catering services are available for events. Unfortunately, due to economic impacts of COVID the Baranof Hotel is not open. While hotel space is reduced all other hotels are open.

We take hosting the Capital very seriously and want to thank the State Chamber for allowing us this efficient method of reaching out to the broad membership. Please, contact me if you have questions or concerns and we look forward to seeing you all in Juneau.

Sincerely,

Mayor Beth Weldon
