

Kevin Murphy
New England Region Executive and National Credit Enablement Executive, Business Banking
Buffalo Market President

Kevin Murphy serves as New England region executive for Business Banking at Bank of America. In this role, he oversees client relationship teams, who provide strategic advice and integrated financial solutions to growing companies with $5 million to $50 million in annual sales revenues from Western Pennsylvania through Maine.

In 2019, he was also named National Credit Enablement executive for Business Banking.

Based in Buffalo, NY, Kevin also serves as Buffalo Market President.

With more than 35 years of experience in the banking industry, Kevin has held leadership roles across the commercial banking group at Bank of America and Fleet Bank.

Previously, Kevin served as market executive for both Middle Market and Business Banking for Bank of America in the Upstate New York region, which includes Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse as well as the Canadian Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Prior to relocating to Buffalo in 2004, he served as team leader and senior vice president of the Middle Market Lending Group at Fleet Bank in Hartford, Connecticut.

A native of Connecticut, Kevin earned a master's degree in finance from New York University and a bachelor's degree in political science from Dartmouth College.

Kevin currently serves on the executive committee of the Buffalo Niagara Partnership board and is also a board member of the Business Council of New York State.
