

Rachel M. Theodore, Ph.D., is Associate Professor of Speech, Language, and Hearing Sciences and Director of the Neurobiology of Language program at the University of Connecticut. She is also Principal Investigator of the UConn Laboratory for Spoken Language Processing. Her research examines behavioral and neural determinants of speech perception in order to promote a theoretical understanding of the mechanisms that support perceptual learning for speech and language.