Dear Chamber Member,

The Chamber Board recently reviewed and refreshed our mission and defined a vision and values for this organization. The refreshed mission is simple and straightforward – the Chamber promotes business success which supports a thriving community. Bottom line – the Chamber is a service organization – our North Star is delivering value for you. It is not about us – it is you.

A simple but important change for the Chamber is how we work differently with members on a variety of projects including AM Espresso and Business After Hours. We consult with members to first determine what they want to achieve with their sponsorship of one of these premier networking events. We then brainstorm with the sponsor about how to meet their business objectives, which vary but can involve rewarding loyal customers, business development/prospecting, or straightforward marketing/visibility.

Advocacy continues to be central to our mission – service includes informing you of government actions that could impact your business and helping advocate on your behalf. Service in this area also includes being the voice of small business when appropriate. A good example of this type of service orientation is our work over the past year with the businesses along North Broadway regarding the reconstruction design and assessment process.

New programs are being developed by the Chamber to help promote and support your success. For example, Shop Local First, the Chamber program launched to encourage local shopping at the holiday season, has now been expanded to include focus on retail and shopping for /spending on professional services, personal services, entertainment, etc.

The Chamber now offers Shop Local First Classes on a variety of subjects from strategic planning, succession planning, marketing and communications, all designed to help you compete more successfully in the new marketplace. These classes are free – taught by subject matter experts, last for an hour and include lunch. You can come to any or all of the classes, whichever best meets your needs. Also, you can send as many members of your team as you like.

The Chamber team is very grateful for your membership and the opportunity to be of service to you. Please know we will work every day to promote your success in accordance with our new mission, vision and values. I sincerely hope you will not hesitate to contact me with any requests or ideas about how we may better meet your needs.

Most sincerely,

Kathleen Harrington

Mayo Clinic

President of OMC to Retire

Olmsted Medical Center (OMC) President Kathryn Lombardo, MD, will complete her six-year term as president on June 30, 2019, and return to clinical practice in psychiatry until her retirement December 31, 2019. Serving as both a clinician in the Department of Psychiatry and Psychology and a leader in the organization for 25 years, Dr. Lombardo reflected, "I will miss being part of OMC and the teamwork that is present in our work to serve our patients and their families. The relationships I have built with colleagues, patients and caregivers have meant a great deal to me as a person and as a physician. The physician-patient relationship is something I've had and valued for nearly 26 years, and I will miss that."

Dr. Lombardo noted that there have been many positive changes in health care delivery. She talked about the addition of the Women's Health Pavilion in 2014 as having a particularly significant impact. "The facility is warm and welcoming for women of all ages, and the services are coordinated well for busy women by amazing caregivers. It was an important change for our hospital campus overall, and more improvements will come in the future at that location. This is just one example, but OMC is always looking for ways to improve our access to quality, patient-centered care to serve our patients and families," said Dr. Lombardo.

Healthcare is ever changing. OMC recently implemented a new, organization-wide electronic health record, which offers opportunities for patients to become even more engaged with their healthcare. Always working to improve patient satisfaction, OMC created a patient and family advisory council to bring the importance of the voice of the patient into the decision-making process. "I'm proud of this work and appreciate all the valuable insight provided by our patients," stated Dr. Lombardo.

In addition, Dr. Lombardo said she is proud of how our community has and continues to collaborate on health needs. She highlighted OMC's collaboration with Olmsted County Public Health Services and Mayo Clinic in identifying and working on meeting the most pressing healthcare issues in our community, as well as collaborating with partners through a 10-county area to develop a mental healthcare crisis center which will open by the end of 2020.

Dr. Lombardo also spoke about OMC's sponsorship with Mayo Clinic and other community partners in bringing the Mind Matters exhibit about mental health to Rochester. (See information below about Mind Matters exhibit.)

"I will miss my colleagues, patients, their families and the community," Dr. Lombardo shared. "I have enjoyed working with great leaders and the staff at OMC, especially my administrative partner, Tim Weir, OMC's CEO. I know Tim and incoming President Dr. James Hoffmann will work well together to lead OMC into the future. OMC is in a great position to continue to serve our patients and communities in southeastern Minnesota by providing the exceptional patient-centered care we are known for."

Description: Navigate and Compete – Creating a Shop Local Environment in an E-commerce World

Interested in learning different ways to leverage the in-store experience into an on-line reoccurring sale?

Customers shop locally to have a relationship-based experience that meets their needs. These same customers may also shop on-line for efficiency or convenience. Competing effectively in today's market requires an understanding of how to use both the face to face and on-line shopping experiences to increase your business. This workshop will explore ways to grow your customer base and complement the shop local experience with the conveniences of shopping on-line.

Join us for this session to discuss the pros and cons of pursuing an e-platform, and how to best integrate the in-store and on-line models.

This session is hosted by the Kabara Institute and will be held at Saint Mary's University Rochester at Cascade Meadow. The speaker is Christine Beech, Executive Director of the Kabara Institute for Entrepreneurial Studies. Christine's business, teaching, research, and consulting experience are in the areas of entrepreneurship, strategic management, leadership development, contract management, succession planning, social entrepreneurship, and small business management.

YMCA RESPONDS TO COMMUNITY CHILD CARE NEEDS

May 2019 The Rochester Area Family YMCA welcomed community members to their Early Childhood Learning Center ribbon cutting on Tuesday, May 21. The Y's new Early Childhood Learning Center, located near Lourdes High School on 2364 Valley High Dr. NW, offers full-day child care, with part-time preschool options, for kids ages 6 weeks to 5 years.

Community members and leaders had the opportunity to hear from Mayor Kim Norton and Chamber of Commerce President Kathleen Harrington, take guided tours of the center, meet staff and beloved Y mascot Sneakers, and learn more how the Y supports families to learn, grow, and thrive.

"I am proud to be a part of a team that offers families quality child care focused on learning through play. Our goal is to provide kids with experiences and guidance that nurtures their individuality and supports lifelong learning as they grow," said Virginia Kaczmarek, Executive Director for the Rochester Area Family YMCA.

Designed with kids in mind, the bright, colorful classrooms are equipped with interactive whiteboards to accommodate curiosity and any learning style. Learning through play is easy in creative spaces that stimulate a child's social emotional growth.

The new Early Childhood Learning Center opened March 2019 and is enrolling in their infant, toddler, preschool and Pre-K classrooms. The Y offers need-based scholarships for tuition and Y membership is not required to enroll. The Y's early childhood learning programs have earned national accreditation by the National Association for the Education of Young Children, a 4-Star Parent Aware rating and are licensed by the State of Minnesota. To schedule a tour of the facility, call 507-200-4024 or visit ymcamn.org/rochestereclc.
