Transformative Leadership in Clark County

April is brimming with opportunities to celebrate leadership in our vibrant community. As we delve into the heart of spring, our town comes alive with a diverse array of events and activities for everyone eager to make a difference and drive positive change in our town.

First and foremost, our esteemed local Leadership class is gearing up to spotlight the vital role of tourism in our community.

Participants will gain invaluable insights into how tourism fuels our local economy and shapes our community's identity.

Later this month, we will show case the unique offerings of Clark County to Central Kentucky Leadership. This event promises to be a dynamic showcase of our county's innovation, resilience, and spirit. Through engaging discussions, presentations, and networking opportunities, attendees from across Central Kentucky will gain a deeper appreciation for the diverse talents and initiatives driving our community forward.

April 25th brings an exciting joint after-hours event in partnership with the Richmond Chamber of Commerce. This collaboration provides a platform for cross-pollination of ideas, resources, and connections, fostering a stronger sense of unity and solidarity among our neighboring communities.

These events are opportunities for you to either become a leader, learn from a leader or continue on your path as a leader to help improve businesses, networking and community. This April is undoubtedly a month to celebrate and embrace the transformative power of leadership. Join us as we learn, grow, and inspire positive change in our beloved town and beyond.

- Cindy Banks, Executive Director

The Winchester-Clark County Chamber of Commerce serves as an advocate for our members to promote and enhance our community through business, social, cultural and educational programs.
