O-Ono

Kelly Schneider of O-Ono says, “Peoria is always doing good and having fun.”

Head of Community and Public Relations at O-Ono, and host of the local radio show, What’s Up Peoria?, which focuses on fundraising and entertainment opportunities in the Peoria area, Schneider is involved in almost every facet of Peoria’s community.

“There is always an opportunity to be involved in something in the area to give back in some way,” said Schneider.

Schneider’s father served in the Air-Force and she has lived all over the country as well as overseas. “I love this city. Since I moved around so much I learned to find something to like wherever I am. But there's so much to do and to love about Peoria,” said Schneider.

O-Ono is a Peoria based professional services firm that provides pay-roll and accounting services to small businesses. Schneider has brought her passion for community to her position at O-Ono. Currently she is working to connect small businesses with nonprofit organizations to create mutually beneficial relationships.
