

Arctic Response Canada is reaching out to Yellowknife and NWT Business Communities to offer our services in support of efforts to mitigate the impacts of COVID-19. As leaders in OHS, emergency preparedness, and emergency response, and Arctic Response has the capacity to perform numerous critical services that will be of great value as part of a coordinated effort to minimize the harm to our employees, businesses, and communities.

Available services include:

- COVID-19 Screening for Employees: Arctic Response has purchased 1,000 Health Canada approved rapid test kits for use by our personnel, with delivery anticipated in the coming days. These tests can be done on-site with results available in roughly 10 minutes.
- OHS Consulting: Develop/modify emergency response plans, business continuity plans, review and institute appropriate employee protections and monitoring, ensure regulatory compliance and best practice, review SOPs to minimize risk of exposure for workers needing to interact with other people.
- Security Services: Provide certified security guards, security supervisors, and/or training to protect vital assets such as medical supplies, PPE, food & water supplies, fuel, critical infrastructure, facilities, etc.
- Education: Train workers in the use of PPE, decontamination protocols, task-level risk assessments, self and peer monitoring for signs and symptoms of COVID-19 infection, oxygen therapy administration.
- Social Services: Counselling for anxiety management and grief counseling.
- Health: Assist procurement and transportation of supplies, setup and management of mobile quarantine camp (decontamination showers/facilities, mask fit testing, temporary shelters, water & sewage, heat & lighting, bedding, feeding, garbage incineration), protected patient transfer services.
- Transportation: Movement of vital supplies and materials to, within, and between NWT communities.

For more information regarding these or any other services we may be able to provide, please contact:

Adam Woogh
NT/NU Regional Manager
(867) 873-3205
info@arcticresponse.ca