

Angel was raised in the heart of downtown Chandler where he still lives today and he couldn't be prouder to call this city his home. Angel is a proud and successful graduate of Chandler public schools and he continued his education at Arizona State University receiving a Bachelor's degree in Business with a minor in Sustainability. Angel's degree in business communication has given him the education and understanding of organizational procedures which he has translated successfully to his current businesses. He now manages and owns an Immigration Consulting Firm and Real Estate business. Handing over the keys to a new homeowner or watching one become an American Citizen has been some of his most rewarding work. Angel helps facilitate the American dream for so many, by providing legal pathways to citizenship and boosting the local economy through homeownership.
