GUEST MUSINGS

BY CHAMBER BOARD PRESIDENT,
MONICA SEDELMEIER, SIOUX CENTER HEALTH

GROWTH, DEVELOPMENT, INNOVATION, CHANGE

These words are not unfamiliar to Sioux Center. We have a strong foundation in forward thinking and anticipating the needs of our community both now and in years to come.

As the Chamber Board President, I have reflected on the ways our Chamber has adapted to the needs of our business and local community and am privileged to walk alongside the Chamber board, staff and membership with a vision of community growth and development.

Being born and raised in Sioux Center, I felt my knowledge level of Sioux Center and the services we offered was pretty adequate and thought all communities operated in a similar fashion. After high school, I was grateful to have the opportunity to live in various states and learn more about other communities, industries and processes. I was always honored to talk about Sioux Center and how our community continues to thrive and transform ideas into outcomes.

A little over four years ago, I encountered an opportunity to return 'home' to work and raise our family. It has been amazing to again be a part of this community and be present in the continuous movement forward. I praise each of you for your work and dedication to supporting our local economy and ensuring a prosperous future for generations to come. The collaboration instilled in our community has proven successful and I look forward to our next steps.

NEW CHILDREN'S PARK SHELTER HOUSE READY FOR EVENTS

The new Children's Park shelter house is offering a unique venue for gatherings.

The new climate-controlled, accessible shelter house is now open for reservations year round for events, business meetings, and family get-togethers.

"Our goal was that the park renovations and shelter house bring people to the park, and give them a reason to meet here," said Sioux Center Parks Director Lee Van Meeteren. "We want it to be comfortable for all and to reflect its park setting."

The enclosed shelter house has tables and seating for up to 110 people and includes a kitchenette area and accessible restrooms. A separate entrance leads to an arts classroom with an attached office for Sioux Center Arts. The building was designed to be eco-friendly with LED lighting and smart thermostats.

A new parking area, a new section of trail, and a trail head were added near the shelter house, all adding to accessibility and encouraging people to use the park. A new restroom facility will be built later this fall.

People can reserve the Children's Park shelter house by contacting the All Seasons Center staff, at 712-722-4386, or online at siouxcenter.maxgalaxy.net. Full-day reservations are $300 plus a $100 deposit, and half-day reservations that finish before 4 p.m. are $150 plus the deposit.

Iowa State University (ISU) Extension and Outreach will host a three-session “Healthy & Homemade” cooking series from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Oct. 15, 22 and 29 at the ISU Extension and Outreach office located at 400 Central Avenue Northwest in Orange City.

The “Healthy & Homemade” program focuses on using a person’s time, money and skills wisely to save money while still preparing nutritious and safe meals.

“This series will benefit anyone, from the inexperienced cook to a person that’s been cooking for many years,” said Renee Sweers, Human Sciences Specialist in Nutrition and Wellness with ISU Extension and Outreach. “Everyone is busy, and few have the time to spend a lot of time in the kitchen.”

However, according to Sweers, multiple studies have shown that meals cooked at home tend to be healthier.

“People generally eat fewer calories, carbohydrates, sugar and fat when cooking and eating at home,” Sweers said. “Most people want to enjoy their food while also trying to move toward healthier eating habits. This program can help with that.”

This particular “Healthy & Homemade” series will feature three sessions:

- The first session, “Slow Cooker Meals,” on Oct. 15, will explore the benefits of using a slow cooker, discuss food safety tips for doing so and look at some meal recipes and ideas.
- The second session, “Healthy Choices: Aisle By Aisle,” on Oct. 22 will lead participants on a virtual tour of the grocery store, where they will learn how to identify and purchase the most nutritious food items.
- The third and final session, “Cook Now, Enjoy Later,” on Oct. 29 will showcase how planning can reduce stress, save money and provide a family with nutritious home-cooked meals.

“During these three sessions, we will explore many strategies to eat healthy and save your time and money,” Sweers said. “We will share reliable resources, taste delicious recipes and have a great deal of fun in the process.”

To register for the upcoming “Healthy & Homemade” series in Orange City, visit <http://bit.ly/hh14098> or call the ISU Extension and Outreach Sioux County office at 712-737-4230. Registration fee for the three-part series and all materials, groceries and supplies involved is $30.

NORTHWEST IOWA COMMUNITY COLLEGE FALL 2019 ENROLLMENT THE LARGEST IN SCHOOL HISTORY

Enrollments at Northwest Iowa Community College are up for the fall of 2019 as compared to fall of 2018 and in fact, the school's 53 year history. The final numbers for the fall are 1,777 students which is an increase of just under 2% over last fall's record breaking enrollment of 1,747 (which was a 6% increase over fall 2017). This also represents about a 98% overall increase in enrollments since fall of 2000 in which NCC had 897 students.

Dr. John Hartog, Vice President – Student & Academic Services, commented on the record enrollments, "A reason for the increase in enrollments can be attributed to NCC's strong commitment to making sure our programs are high quality, affordable, and accessible. We want our program offerings to align with the industry and learning needs of Northwest Iowans. We started the Web & Graphic Design program in the fall of 2018, and this year we have added the Information Technology Specialist program. We regularly assess programmatic needs so that we can offer instruction and training that will make the biggest impact in the lives of our students and in our communities."

One reason for the increase, as Hartog referenced, is the launch of a new program: Information Technology Specialist. The program prepares graduates to provide technical assistance to computer users, particularly in a small-business setting. Students gain experience in a variety of IT skills including hardware, software applications, networking and programming, and principles of customer service. For the AAS degree students choose an emphasis track/curriculum in either Programming, Network and Security, or Database Management. In addition to the AAS degree, students can also earn a one-year diploma or a Help Desk Technician Certificate.

NCC has a proven track record of providing access, quality instruction, and success of our alumni in Northwest Iowa. NCC's Graduation Rate is the best in Iowa and one of the best in the country at 67.3%, students' Success Rates are the best in the state at 71.5%, our penetration rate is 2nd best in the state at 20.7%, and students' federal loan default rates are the lowest in Iowa at 10.7% (Iowa Department of Education Profile Report, 2018).

What do these numbers mean? The numbers are a reflection of our brand statement, Your Success is Our Story, and how every employee at NCC embraces a culture of success for our students. Students are choosing NCC because they have access to one of the best community colleges in the country, quality instruction, a culture of student success, and relevant programs that mean something to Northwest Iowans because they can find jobs after graduation.

NORTHWEST IOWA COMMUNITY COLLEGE RANKED 3RD IN THE NATION FOR CAREER OUTCOMES AND 12TH OVERALL BEST COMMUNITY COLLEGE IN THE NATION

Northwest Iowa Community College was ranked among the top 15 in Best Community Colleges in the nation, according to a new report published by the personal finance website WalletHub. They rank NCC as 3rd for Career Outcomes in the nation and 12th in their ranking for Best Overall Community College in the nation.

According to WalletHub's website the reason they conducted this study was, "Community colleges offer students the ability to get higher education without having as much financial strain. During the 2018 to 2019 academic year, tuition and fees for full-time, in-state enrollment at a public two-year college averaged $3,660 per year versus $10,320 at a public four-year institution and $35,830 at a four-year private school. Students who earn their general-education credits at a community college before transferring to an in-state public four-year university can potentially save a lot of money. Individual community colleges, however, vary in quality and affordability."

To determine where students can receive the highest quality education at the most affordable cost, WalletHub compared 710 community colleges across 19 key indicators of cost and quality. The data set ranges from the cost of in-state tuition and fees to student-faculty ratio to graduation rate. According to WalletHub.com, "We evaluated the schools based on three key dimensions, including: 1) Cost & Financing, 2) Education Outcomes and 3) Career Outcomes. We constructed the three dimensions using 19 total metrics, each grouped with related metrics in the appropriate category and listed below with its corresponding weight."
