

Chamber leaders meet with Federal representatives

After a hiatus during the pandemic, the Chamber's annual Washington, D.C., Fly-in resumed this year.

Joining Chamber President Tracey Osborne Oltjen and Kevin Walker, Executive Vice President & Chief Policy Officer, in meeting with national officials were Josh Beck, MarksNelson; Cindy Rock, C2FO; Kim Winslow, Evergy; and Reagan Cussimano, The University of Kansas Health System.

The delegation met with U.S. Senators Jerry Moran and Roger Marshall and U.S. Representative Sharice L. Davids to discuss issues and share the Chamber's Federal priorities including the challenges of attracting and retaining talent, access to international travel documents and problems with reliable and consistent delivery of the U.S. postal mail.

The Chamber delegation discussed how legal immigration reform – including greater access to H1B and H2B Visas – is critical to key sectors of Overland Park's business community getting the workers they need.

The Chamber representatives also met with U.S. Chamber of Commerce officials and representatives of the American Hospital Association.

Playing the long game

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

We celebrated the long-awaited expansion of Overland Park's Arboretum and Botanical Garden and its gorgeous LongHouse Visitor Center a few weeks ago.

The Arboretum is one of my favorite places – both as a space to refresh and relax and to show off Overland Park to visitors. Some of my favorite memories were created there – my family celebrating Thanksgiving at the Luminary Walk, laughing with friends at Stems, and searching for the first signs of spring on a crisp winter morning with my best friend. The addition of the spectacular LongHouse and its surrounding gardens, fountains, reflecting pools and panoramic views takes the Arboretum experience to a new level.

At the LongHouse ribbon cutting, I shared that this addition is important from an economic development perspective. It's a differentiator for our community in terms of amenities. It tells our residents, businesses, and the country we're a community serious about investing in ourselves.

In the old days, economic development was about having great sites – meaning build-ings – good schools, highway access and maybe a golf course – and you could attract new businesses to your community.

Now, it's not just about an ideal site, the right financing, and quality of life; it's about the quality of your place. You must demonstrate you have the "cool factor." Fortunately, Overland Park has been building the quality of our place since we were incorporated in 1960. But that doesn't mean we can rest on our laurels. Every year we must look at what we can do to improve and invest in those things. It's a long game.

That's why this LongHouse – and the expansion all around it – is so important. Great companies won't locate here, and won't stay and expand in Overland Park, if we don't have all the amenities – the best schools, great roads, broadband, housing, parks, walkability, entertainment, restaurants, retail – amenities that help them attract and retain their talent.

I'm grateful to our community's leaders – past and present members of the Arts and Recreation Foundation of Overland Park who had the vision for the LongHouse, past and present City Council members and our professional city staff and volunteers, and of course the numerous donors who made this project possible.

I saw the LongHouse presentation numerous times, but the reality is far greater than I imagined. This is a generational project – a game changer and true gathering space for our region. I look forward to seeing you at the Arboretum!

Kansas Gas Service: A year of impact

CORPORATE SPONSOR SPOTLIGHT

Kansas Gas Service has a vision of a better tomorrow – a future where it continues to deliver safe, affordable and reliable energy while reducing the environmental impact on our planet.

The utility's 2023 Environmental, Social and Governance \(ESG\) Report outlines progress toward this vision by highlighting its commitment to safe operations, responsible environmental stewardship and support of employees and the communities it serves.

The report focuses on efforts in the following areas:

Environmental Stewardship – Sustainability is at the core of its vision, and it embraces the opportunity to be part of a transition to a carbon-neutral energy future.

Social Responsibility – Kansas Gas is committed to making a difference for its employees, customers and communities.

Corporate Governance & Oversight – Strong, forward-thinking leadership is necessary to create a better tomorrow for the utility's people and our planet.

Highlights in this year's report:

- Working alongside the Kansas Corporation Commission to add advanced mobile methane leak detection units. See page 32.
- Kansas members of the Employee Resource Group BLOG (Black Leadership at ONE Gas) planted trees in Northeast Wichita to demonstrate their devotion to community service and environmental stability. See page 41.
- Pratt-based industrial customer Pratt Energy is featured. Natural gas powers their steam boilers 24 hours a day. See page 8.
- Expanded use of Risk Assessment and Damage Reduction (RADAR) technology into Kansas. This application helps analyze data and prioritize the probability of damage occurring to our pipelines due to excavation activities and supports our efforts to reduce emissions and improve safety performance. See page 31.

Kansas Gas Service is a division of ONE Gas, Inc., a 100-percent regulated natural gas utility. It takes pride in delivering the affordable, reliable natural gas 648,000 customers depend on each day.
