"Keys to Success allows Spherion Staffing to be in front of a different audience than other sponsorships afford us. Attendees to these phenomenal training sessions are typically business owners, who many times can only justify coming out for free or low cost training opportunities. Other attendees who come are employees of larger companies, who many times are the contacts who have a need for the types of services my company offers. I have chosen to be a sponsor for the last few years because the training is so excellent. I personally send as many of my employees to various sessions as possible!"

The best part of the event though is the kids. To be a part of an event like this that has such a great impact on the children in our community is amazing. When you can be an integral part of an event that thousands of people look forward to, and has such a positive impact on the kids in that community, you have to do it."
