Arizona Supreme Court Rules Gyms Should Have Opportunity to Reopen

The Arizona Supreme Court has issued a new ruling in regards to gym closures. Earlier today, Judge Timothy J. Thomason ordered Governor Ducey's executive order to shut down gyms, violate procedural due process. The judge states fitness centers should have a prompt opportunity to apply for reopening. The order reads: "The process for doing so must be in place within one week from the date of entry of this Order."

Mountainside Fitness will hold a press conference at 5 p.m. to talk about the ruling. Watch the press conference live here.
