Thirty years ago, Jody Amos talked his Mom into buying him a DJ system. He was fresh out of high school and had recently DJ'd his sister’s wedding with a tape deck and some new component called a CD player. “My Mom knew I was very passionate about music and electronics in general,” said Amos. “I didn’t have to twist her arm too much to get her to cave in.”

In August of 1990, Amos bought a set of turntables, a mixer, a pair of speakers and a microphone, then geared up for his next wedding that upcoming weekend. “Last month, (August of 2020) marked 30 years since I bought my first DJ system and did my first paid gig,” said Amos.

Since then, Amos and his team have become a multi-award winning production company with all of the key elements for producing successful events. Staffed with award-winning DJ/MCs, event production managers, A/V techs and video producers, they are dedicated to creating wonderful events that you will cherish for a lifetime.

With the developments of COVID-19, Amos has been forced to completely pivot his business, focusing his efforts on all things virtual. From multi-camera live streamed weddings to virtual fundraisers, Amos Productions is able to split your attendees out among several screens to enhance your live event experience and interactions with your attendees. We can even help design an engaging program including an enhanced registration process, breakout room activities, sponsorship opportunities, fundraising solutions, and more. We’ve left some room behind the stage for a custom banner with your branding/backdrop, or an LED wall.

Micro-Wedding Packages

“For the remainder of 2020, we will be offering services at reduced rates and hours to host ‘micro-weddings’ to those seeking professional audio/visual services.” said Amos. Micro-Weddings are small intimate weddings held at the guidelines and capacities set by local authorities. With the incorporation of Zoom and the Amos Productions audio-visual equipment, your viewers will see professionally through broadcast quality lenses and listen in. Regardless of the event, Amos Productions is ready to help you and your organization shine, delivering professional presentations. “You can come to our studio, or we can bring our studio to your space,” said Amos. “We understand every event has different needs and we are here to help find solutions for you,” he continued.

Building a safe and inclusive community, one collaboration at a time

With what is going on nationally with policing and some cities even “defunding” their police departments, I think it is appropriate to speak about what it is like to be a person of color in our society or in our city. It is my sincere hope that Pleasanton can become an inclusive community of allies as we move forward.

I believe that Pleasanton, like our nation, has hard work to do. Our business environment is directly affected by the benefit or lack of public safety. It is nearly impossible for most of us to understand what it is like to be a person of color in our society or in our city. It is the business of the Pleasanton Chamber to advocate for a community where everyone feels safe and valued.

At the Pleasanton Chamber, we look forward to being a part of conversations, to listening and learning, and to being at the forefront of being inclusive and welcoming to all. Pleasanton is among the most desirable communities in the country in which to live, work, and raise a family. It did not become this way by accident. It was by design and from the commitment of generations of community leaders before us.

Year in and year out, crime data reveals that Pleasanton is among the safest cities of our size in the state. Can we do better? Sure, we can, and we look forward to working with the Pleasanton Police Department to review its policies to tighten them up, without taking away their ability to do their job. The police department is facing an increasing number of mental health calls. We believe we need to explore options regarding those calls by adding trained medical professionals to aid in those cases.

We also do not want anyone to forget some important facts. Among the many reasons Pleasanton is a safe community is a long-standing commitment to funding uniformed officer response times of approximately four minutes for emergencies, and 30 minutes for non-emergencies. Pleasanton was at the forefront of community policing decades ago, with the creation of the D.A.R.E. program. The incredibly successful program places officers in schools and helps kids make healthy choices and avoid drugs. Neighborhood watch signs you see all over town are due to great efforts of citizens and our police department. The creation of, and the commitment to, an award-winning citizen volunteer program, and the direct engagement of command staff in community activities are ongoing.

The Pleasanton Chamber is here to support our business community and to work in partnership with all facets of our city to ensure Pleasanton remains a wonderful home for our businesses and residents. We have long been a community of collaboration and your Chamber leaders are eager to be an active part of problem-solving, strategy building and positive progress as we move forward together.

Working together for the good of the Tri-Valley

Annual Tri-Valley Mayors’ Summit provided thoughtful discussion

These mayors that you see before you have spent many, many years in service to their community and working collaboratively together,” said Catharine Baker, who moderated the virtual event. “We’re in a time of great change now because they are transitioning off their leadership roles, and I want to say thank you for the privilege of getting to work with you and for all you’ve done working together for the good of the Tri-Valley,” Baker continued.

A panel discussion of the current challenges and opportunities facing the Tri-Valley was the theme for the annual Tri-Valley Mayor’s Summit. Included in the panel were Vice Mayor Kathy Narum (Pleasanton), Mayor Karen Stepper (Danville), Mayor David Haubert (Dublin), Mayor John Marchund (Livermore), and Mayor Bill Clarkson (San Ramon). Hosted by the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce, the Tri-Valley Mayors’ Summit took place virtually August 26, 2020 and was live streamed by Amos Productions. Video of the entire event is available to view at www.pleasanton.org as well as the Chamber’s Facebook page.

The event was sponsored by Chabot Las Positas Community College District, Chevron and Stanford Health Care - ValleyCare with participating sponsorships from Alameda County Fairgrounds, Amos Productions, Black Tie Transportation, John Muir Health and Hoge Fenton.

With the Honorable Catharine Baker, California State Assembly-member, District 16 (ret.) moderating the discussion, and more than 100 years of dedication and experience being represented by these Mayors, the summit provided new insights and renewed confidence in the Tri-Valley region continuing to prosper for years to come.

Body Balance: Keeping fitness alive, virtually and outdoors

Body Balance is guided by two major pillars: helping others achieve well-being and establishing a supportive community. “During these challenging times, we are more committed to these goals than ever,” said owner John Perez.

Located in the heart of historic Pleasanton, Body Balance was founded 22 years ago by massage therapist and nutrition coach Kristi Reed and personal trainer John Perez. Both owners have always had a deep passion for wellness, as have the personal trainers and massage therapists who complete the Body Balance team. With their unique, combined expertise in fitness, massage, and nutrition, John and Kristi have created the Body Balance community, where you can leave your busy life behind, and focus on developing your balanced and healthy lifestyle.

“We’re committed to keeping our Body Balance family strong,” said Perez. They have been getting creative and adapting so that they can continue to offer health and fitness services given the current circumstances.

Currently, they are offering innovative, one-on-one fitness sessions in outdoor cabanas as well as small group classes, featuring nutritional awareness and meditation. They are anxiously awaiting Alameda County lifting the current health orders to be able to offer therapeutic massage as well. “We’ve taken our fitness workouts outside to keep you safe during this time of social distancing,” said Perez. “We will also continue our virtual personal trainer sessions, but for those who prefer working out in person, from a distance, of course, we’d love to see you.”

During the outdoor sessions, each client works out in their own designated space, either in the shade under the veranda or, weather permitting, in the space out in front of Body Balance. Each personal training area is marked off to make social distancing easy.

Body Balance is located at 164 Ray Street in Pleasanton.
Agency without the agency fees

Jeff Leuchi has spent his entire life in the San Francisco Bay Area. Born and raised in Oakland, he attended UC Berkeley for four years, and graduated in 1979 with a degree in economics. Upon graduation, he was hired in sales and worked a variety of positions in Oakland, Mountain View and Silicon Valley.

Leuchi started J.C.L. Print Associates in March of 1992 and is in its 28th year of business. The company began as a supplier of commercial printing, business cards, stationery, business forms, checks, and pressure-sensitive labels for various size companies throughout the San Francisco Bay Area.

The affiliation with Proforma took place in 2003, and to this day, Proforma J.C.L. Print Associates is locally owned and operated by Leuchi. Joining with Proforma also enabled him to expand his offerings to include company uniforms, logo apparel, branded promotional products, and e-commerce solutions.

"With Covid-19, we've recently added personal protective equipment, and we now have the supply chain to be able to provide facemasks, hand sanitizer, gowns, goggles, thermometers, wipes and nitrile gloves quickly and economically," said Leuchi.

They also have proprietary e-commerce technology that allows them to offer companies solutions to set up pop-up stores and fundraising stores.

“We enjoy talking to our clients and potential clients in order to determine what is best for their businesses, from a marketing and branding standpoint,” said Leuchi, who prides himself on the fact the first customer he obtained in 1992 is still a customer today.

Leuchi joined the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce in March of 1995, became an Ambassador and is currently the longest tenured Ambassador with the Chamber.

“We welcome the opportunity to talk to any business to determine if it is a fit for us to work together,” said Leuchi. “We hope to be able to do that face to face at some future time. In the meantime, we would love to have the opportunity to chat on a Zoom call or by phone,” he continued.

Empowering youth through the arts

“I Can Do That!” was founded in 2016 by two childhood friends with the goal of creating amazing youth theatre. Over the past four years, Shayna Ronen and Jarusha Ariel came to realize something very important: their students were not just looking for training in theatre. They were looking for a place to belong, to be accepted, and to create meaningful relationships.

It was over this time that Shayna and Jarusha became the figures their students trusted to share success and failures. Their students confided in them with everything from getting an “A” on a school assignment and to making a new friend to sharing fears of social pressures and even wanting to end their lives. It was through these moments that they realized that their purpose was much bigger than originally planned.

The studio is currently offering outdoor, in-person and virtual theatre classes.

With a projected opening of winter 2020, “I Can Do That!” will feature three studio rooms and a cafe/lounge for the local youth community.

“All we want is for the youth who are moved and motivated by our mission of empowering local youth and bringing this arts center to life. It still needs community support to reach their goal, and are interested in meeting with local companies, clubs, and individuals who are moved and motivated by our mission of empowering local youth and bringing this youth center to life. Digital donor recognition starts at $100 and donor wall recognition starts at $10,000. Shayna and Jarusha believe, now more than ever, that young people need resources to create an empowered view of the world. Check out www.ICanDoThatPAC.org for more information and to help build a place to belong.”

Bringing innovation to light, bringing health to you

“We are working with many local businesses and making it a priority to weather the pandemic storm by providing cost-effective UV disinfection solutions,” said Eric Liu of Luxglo. “We are committed to helping companies, organizations and families become confident and feel safe as everyone gets back to work and to their regular routines,” said Liu.

Headquartered in Pleasanton, Luxglo designs and manufactures optical products and solutions, offering a broad range of industry leading components and custom designed solutions for use in lighting and communication networks. Luxglo started as an LED and optical communication company and Liu and his team have over 20 years of experience in optics and electronics.

“We are applying state-of-the-art optical technologies to develop the next generation UV disinfection lamps for local businesses, schools, daycare centers, churches, and families for a cleaner and safer environment during the pandemic,” said Liu.

Unlike competitors that only offer UVC disinfection lamps, Luxglo offers comprehensive UV lighting solutions to provide the optimum results for disinfection and sanitation. Luxglo’s UVC lamps can instantly disinfect an area while the 405nm sunlight disinfection lamps can continuously disinfect and suppress viruses and bacteria.

Sunlight Disinfection Technology

While UVC has been widely used in the disinfection process, it is harmful and not practical to widely adapt in the normal living environment. Antimicrobial violet-blue light in 405nm region is emerging as an alternative technology for hospital decontamination and clinical treatment and it’s harmless to human eyes and skin. Luxglo’s 405nm product has passed IEC 62471, the photo biological safety test to ensure the safety of the users.

UVC Disinfection - Germicidal/Sterilizer Lamp

UVC disinfection lamps are suitable to sterilize, disinfect, remove dust mites, air purification and formaldehyde removal up to 2,150 square-feet of space. It mainly acts on the DNA of microorganisms, destroying the structure of DNA, making it lose the function of reproduction and self-replication. UVC germicidal lamps can be used on the surface, water and air of anti-contaminated objects disinfection. Disinfection rate reaches 99.9%.
