Business Spotlight

BACS' Valley Wellness Center enjoys a visit from church volunteers from Pathway Community Church.

Supporting People, Supporting Community

Bay Area Community Services (BACS) is a heritage non-profit in the Bay Area. Their first program opened in 1953, working to meet the needs of community members who were slipping through the cracks of the system. Today, BACS provides services to more than 12,000 people across seven different counties in Northern California.

BACS is specifically very proud to be a part of the fabric of Pleasanton since 1974 – to be an agency that has grown and adapted alongside social changes, has worked constantly to reach more people, and has given out a needed service in the community.

Valley Wellness Center provides support to individuals with behavioral health challenges, who want to manage their symptoms and move forward with their lives in healthy and positive ways.

Wellness Centers focus on community integration through competitive employment programs, a welcoming drop-in space for socializing and life skills development, classes and programs, behavioral health services and more.

Please don't hesitate to stop by the BACS office at 3900 Valley Ave #B in Pleasanton to explore the space, pick up or drop off donations, volunteer and meet the other members of the community. Please email Kim Ellis at kellis@bayareacs.org for more information.
