Permanent exhibit now open at the Fairgrounds

American Farm Tractor Museum — The Alameda County Fair is honoring its agricultural history with a brand-new feature: the American Farm Tractor Museum, designed to pay homage to Alameda County's deep agricultural roots. The vision for the museum is that it will serve as an educational resource for schools, as well as a space for community events and gatherings. The entire museum space was built and designed in house by the Alameda County Fair's team of carpenters, electricians, graphic designers, and exhibits teams. "All the tractors on display at the museum are part of the Fair's 'Agricultural Heritage' collection," said Jerome Hoban, CEO of the Alameda County Fair. "They have been lovingly restored and possess a meaningful, rich history." During the Grand Opening, Raul Santiago, Alameda County Fairgrounds Ground Crew Supervisor, was honored for his long standing service with the vintage machines.
