Celebrating 30 years in Pleasanton

Window-ology, a local Pleasanton company and a family-owned and operated business, is now celebrating its 30th year serving the Bay Area.

With a beautiful showroom near downtown Pleasanton, Window-ology offers a full assortment of blinds, shades, shutters, draperies, awnings and is now the west coast connection for Securshade. They contribute to the local economy as well by employing almost 50 people.

The goal of Window-ology owners Alan and Chris Robinette is to give prompt, professional service with the most creative, unique and best-made products available, all at competitive prices. This makes Window-ology the ultimate choice for window coverings in both residential and commercial applications.

In addition to its beautiful showroom, Window-ology can bring its selections and service directly to you. brand of custom products. Window-ology is also the Bay Area's premier dealer for SunSetter Awnings, and also carries KE Durasol custom retractable awnings, the highest quality in the industry.

Window-ology is in the forefront of window covering technology with the advent of Securshade. Securshade is a product designed for today's world and school and business safety. Securshade works as an additional solution for active shooter situations by allowing all window shades at a school or office to drop quickly and at the same time preventing line of sight into classrooms or offices.

In the showroom, visitors can experience and view many of the products Window-ology sells, including cellular shades, faux and wood blinds, banded shades, verticals, and wood and composite shutters.

They also manufacture their own very-high-quality products in their 9,000-square-foot factory. Window-ology is an authorized service center for Hunter Douglas products and services all types of window covering repairs. Just bring in your shades for an estimate.

The Window-ology showroom and factory are at 4225 Stanley Blvd. in Pleasanton. Call 925-462-1207 or visit www.window-ology.com.

One region, one voice

While most of our advocacy work centers around our Pleasanton businesses, we are proud of our efforts at a regional level. The chambers of commerce of Pleasanton, Dublin, Livermore, Danville and San Ramon work together on business issues impacting the Tri-Valley through the Tri-Valley Chamber of Commerce Alliance (TVCCA). Founded in 2018, the TVCAA represents 3,000 member businesses that employ over 87,000 individuals. The TVCCA focuses on common business issues such as sufficient workforce and family housing; sound and well-planned infrastructure, including transportation; workforce development; and a thoughtful regulatory environment. Additionally, the TVCCA comes together for annual events such as the Tri-Valley Mayor's Summit.

The Tri-Valley is a special place to live, work, and grow a business, and this alliance continues to give us a stronger voice in supporting our members and the Tri-Valley, ensuring the region remains a leader of job creation in the Bay Area. Attention employers and job seekers

The TVCCA is partnering with the Tri-Valley Career Center to host a job fair and career expo on Thursday, September 29, 2022. This is the second annual event of this nature, and it will take place in the offices of the Tri-Valley Career Center on Owens Drive in Pleasanton.

Are you looking for a new job? Are you making a change in your career? Then this event is for you as we are planning on more than 50 local employers looking for great employees. Employers also have the opportunity to set-up a vendor table at the event. More information is available at www.trivalleycareercenter.org.

The Tri-Valley Career Center highly encourages all businesses that are hiring to post open positions on their online job board, a free service for you at www.jobs.trivalleycareercenter.org.

Community challenges and the Pleasanton 2025 Forum

Our community faces many challenges. From transportation to housing to water and more, there are numerous issues that can negatively impact our quality of life. If they are not addressed, these issues can grow into significant barriers that prevent progress, not only on those specific items but to the entire city and community of Pleasanton.

To identify and track these issues, the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce created a document called, "Pleasanton 2025: A Community Vision." It contains eight categories of community issues the Chamber identified as key to improving the quality of life for all in Pleasanton. The Chamber also created the Pleasanton 2025 Forum, a monthly meeting to educate the public on the Vision issues that impact everyone.

Transportation is a perfect example as it affects every aspect of life, both personal and professional. At the Pleasanton 2025 Forum in August, City Traffic Engineer Mike Tassano shared a list of significant transportation projects Pleasanton is undertaking, or soon will. These covered everything from improving highway interchanges to increasing traffic circulation density flowing into the new Costco (once built) to traffic concerns in downtown Pleasanton. If you are a business or resident here, you will be impacted by these projects.

James Cooper
Pleasanton Chamber President/CEO

The Pleasanton 2025 Forum is an opportunity for the public to hear from knowledgeable speakers on important local topics and add its voice to the discussion. It is a chance to bring your ideas to a group whose main purpose is to serve as a sounding board for topics identified in "Pleasanton 2025: A Community Vision." These topics all relate to economic development, which is the Chamber's core mission. Why is that important? Because having more success with our economic development efforts leads to greater prosperity and a higher quality of life for all in our community.

Chamber members and the public are invited to participate in the Pleasanton 2025 Forum meetings, held the second Wednesday of each month. The September 14 meeting will feature Pleasanton City Manager Gerry Beaudin, who will talk about the City's economic development priorities for the remainder of 2022 and beyond. In October, General Manager of Hacienda James Paxson will discuss what is happening at Hacienda, including possible housing. Future speakers will include Omron Robotics and Amazon. The meetings begin at 12:00 p.m. and

Producing exceptional audio-visual experiences

LED posters add a unique touch to your next event

LED displays seem to be everywhere these days, from your TV at home to the big screens in Times Square and the Las Vegas Strip. And it's no surprise - LEDs are energy efficient, lightweight, and durable. The widespread adoption has led to some creative uses of the technology.

LED posters

At VIP Audio Visual Company, we're proud to offer another innovative use for LED displays: Our new LED Posters. Sized to the same dimensions as a traditional roll-up poster, our LED posters are a great solution for a broad range of applications. Mounted on a rolling base and powered from a single electrical outlet, you can conveniently position them anywhere in your venue. The posters can show a single image or series of images from a memory device, making them a great option for event signage, schedule information, sponsor recognition, exhibit booths, and much more.

Vehicle mounted displays for outdoor events

LED display technology is an amazing tool for many applications. LEDs emit their own light rather than reflecting light from a projector, so they're visible in bright environments like exhibit halls or outdoors in full sunlight.

LED posters

The LED posters can show a single image or series of images from a memory device, making them a great option for event signage, schedule information, sponsor recognition, exhibit booths, and much more.

They can be viewed from almost any angle and can be assembled as screens large enough to be suitable for huge crowds.

LED walls

Traditional LED Walls feature a block-type construction with multiple individual LED panels being combined to create a single display surface. These highly configurable displays can be used in any indoor space, in either standard or creative aspect ratios. The displays can stand on the ground or be suspended from support structures. The bright panels are virtually immune to interference from ambient light, ensuring that your message stays front and center throughout your event. Learn more at vipav.com.

Importing labor and exporting talent: Pleasanton's economic vulnerability

The Chamber's Economic Development and Government Relations (EDGR) Committee meets monthly to research topics that are vital to Pleasanton's economy. EDGR members hear from subject matter experts, conduct research, and when appropriate, make recommendations for action to the Chamber Board of Directors.

Pleasanton's strong economy and fiscal responsibility have produced $33.4 million in our general fund, in large part because our tax base includes some of the most successful businesses in the Bay. Unlike nearby bedroom communities whose tax base is primarily comprised of residential property taxes, "Pleasanton's economy is characterized by heavy concentration of high-technology sectors that draw highly-educated workers," according to the City of Pleasanton's Economic Development Strategic Plan.

Jill Buck
EDGR
Committee Chair

Pleasanton residents should not take our economic prosperity for granted. Businesses relocate all the time, and Pleasanton is in constant competition with other communities that would love to have a tax base like ours.

Pleasanton's economy is vulnerable as long as we are reliant on imported labor. The City of Pleasanton's Economic Development Strategic Plan states, "The City has about two jobs to every employed resident, a far higher ratio than other Bay Area cities. This jobs-housing imbalance means that most of Pleasanton's workers commute from outside of the City and Tri-Valley region. Over time, as employment in the Tri-Valley continues to grow, it will be important to consider expanding Pleasanton's capacity to grow housing near jobs... Pleasanton's dependency on labor from outside the City and Tri-Valley poses a potential long-term competitive challenge as economic growth becomes increasingly constrained due to long commutes and increasing local housing costs, thus reducing labor access."

Planning for young, well-educated residents. If we want a maximum return on investment for what we collectively invest in Pleasanton Unified schools, we will strive to bring our high-achieving students back home when they are ready to enter the workforce. We have the jobs; they have the talent. The City's Economic Development Strategic Plan notes, "Increasing the diversity of housing products, as well as providing high-quality multi-family housing near employment centers and amenities, will help make Pleasanton a more attractive location for smaller and younger households."

Housing that meets our needs. The Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce's Vision 2025 document encourages public policy makers and the development community, "to create a stock of housing that will reduce the jobs/housing ratio to less than 1.25." This should include both rental and ownership housing products that will increase opportunities to bring Pleasanton's most precious resource - our children - back home.

I firmly believe that Pleasanton students will do great no matter where they go, but Pleasanton will be great if we bring them home.

"I went to Dr. Wang for a regular check-up and he found a deep cavity that would've resulted in a root canal if I waited any longer to treat it. He meticulously treated my cavity the same day, and he saved me from needing a root canal or even possibly losing the tooth. I'm so grateful for Dr. Wang's careful evaluation."
