Amos Productions pivots into 30th year

Thirty years ago, Jody Amos talked his Mom into buying him a DJ system. He was fresh out of high school and had recently DJ'ed his sister's wedding with a tape deck and some new component called a CD player. "My Mom knew I was very passionate about music and electronics in general," said Amos. "I didn't have to twist her arm too much to get her to cave in."

In August of 1990, Amos bought a set of turntables, a mixer, a pair of speakers and a microphone, then geared up for his next wedding that upcoming weekend. "Last month, (August of 2020) marked 30 years since I bought my first DJ system and did my first paid gig," said Amos.

Since then, Amos and his team have become a multi-award winning production company with all of the key elements for producing successful events. Staffed with award-winning DJ/MCs, event production managers, A/V techs and video producers, they are dedicated to creating wonderful events that you will cherish for a lifetime.

With the developments of COVID-19, Amos has been forced to completely pivot his business, focusing his efforts on all things virtual. From multi-camera live streamed weddings to virtual fundraising galas to business meetings, conferences, mixers and forums, all of which are being done virtually now, Amos has created a great solution for professional, quality events of any nature.

Zoomzilla: Live Engagement Studio

The most engaging studio for virtual events designed to be as close to in-person events possible, and quite possibly with a better bottom line. The Zoomzilla studio comes complete with broadcast cameras, teleprompters, lighting, powerpoint screens, podiums, presenter clocks, flip charts, white boards, and more. With the incorporation of advanced audio-visual equipment and some teleconferencing magic, Amos Productions is able to split your attendees out among several screens to enhance your live event experience and interactions with your attendees. We can even help design an engaging program including an enhanced registration process, breakout room activities, sponsorship opportunities, fundraising solutions, and more. We've left some room behind the stage for a custom banner with your branding/backdrop, or an LED wall.

For the last 30 years, Jody Amos and his team at Amos Productions have been the #1 choice by many venues and companies throughout the Bay Area for producing successful events.

Micro-Wedding Packages

"For the remainder of 2020, we will be offering services at reduced rates and hours to host 'micro-weddings' to those seeking professional DJ, video, live streaming, and lighting services," said Amos. Micro-Weddings are small intimate weddings held at the guidelines and capacities set by local authorities. With the incorporation of Zoom and the Amos Productions audio-visual equipment, your viewers will see professionally through broadcast quality lenses and listen in

Regardless of the event, Amos Productions is ready to help you and your organization shine, delivering professional presentations. "You can come to our studio, or we can bring our studio to your space," said Amos. "We understand every event has different needs and we are here to help find solutions for you," he continued.
