

We plan for all kinds of things that might happen to us: car accidents, theft, and fire. Even if you have life insurance, thinking about your own death is something most people avoid. You've taken that first step and done your will, but even the most comprehensive will doesn't go far enough in protecting your assets. Please join us for a complimentary meal and honest discussion about practical realities we all will face. Community Leaders will help you learn how to plan for your future, maintain control over what happens to you and your assets, and ensure your express wishes are carried out.

Plan Ahead & Be Prepared

Please join us for a Free "Lunch & Learn" Seminar

Wiles McMichael Law Firm LLC

Over the past Decade, Tripp and his team have assisted hundreds of individuals in protecting their families and preserving their legacies through customized estate plans, as well assisting families in the estate administration process.

Avinger Funeral Home

For decades, the Avinger Family has assisted Lowcountry families with planning end of life arrangements. Our dedicated team will compassionately share their insight on how to make things easier for your family while relieving the emotional and financial burden when the time comes.
