

NAIOP SoCal Night at the Fights Attracts Sold Out Crowd

Orange County, CA (October 13, 2022) – A record crowd of nearly 1000 commercial real estate professionals attended the 2022 NAIOP SoCal Night at the Fight, once again proving that the chapter’s black tie boxing affair is the premier event in the Southern California CRE industry.

Held October 6 at the OC Fair & Event Center, Hangar Building in Costa Mesa, this year also marked the event’s 30th anniversary. The gala included two professional boxing matches and a bout between local Southern California industry pros Charles Banks of FCL Builders vs. Stephen Madigan of Kidder Mathews. Banks was crowned the winner after three thrilling, hard-fought rounds. A second industry bout between Jack Carder of Berkadia vs. David Sarnoff of Pacific Southwest Realty Services (PSRS) was cancelled due to injury.

“Everyone had a fantastic time at this year’s Night at the Fights. The record attendance proved that everyone was ready to get out and network,” said Tim Jemal, CEO, NAIOP SoCal. “I want to thank our industry boxers who bravely entered the ring and demonstrated true sportsmanship while entertaining our event crowd.”

“The sponsors really stepped up to ensure everyone had such a wonderful evening, especially our Ring Sponsor Link, Warm-up Sponsor Air Control Systems, and Round 2 Sponsor Prologis,” said Brian Baker, Chair, Night at the Fights, and executive director with JP Morgan.

The celebration was marked by a Star Wars theme carried out throughout the evening, featuring many well-known characters including stormtroopers, Darth Vader and even a Wookiee! Plans are already underway for 2023.
