

MADICO MADE Workforce Business Spotlight: MARKETPLACE OF DANIELSVILLE

The Madison County Chamber of Commerce understands that a skilled workforce is the foundation for a thriving economy. Between being home to a top ranked K-12 school system and being situated in close proximity to colleges and universities, Madison County proudly serves as a talent pipeline for local and regional business & industry.

The Work-Based Learning (WBL) Program at Madison County High School/The Broad River College and Career Academy is the great connector between the school system and local business & industry. With a mission of "providing students with the opportunity to gain relevant job skills & valued work experience through internships while preparing for tomorrow's workforce," the program's role in developing a "MADICO MADE Workforce" for our economy cannot be understated.

The Chamber's Workforce Development & Education Committee would like to recognize a Chamber member that is also a partner in the WBL program- Marketplace of Danielsville. Located at 291 Sam Groves Street Danielsville

GA 30633, Marketplace of Danielsville's is managed by Andy McCarty and has played a role in developing a MADICO MADE Workforce by serving as WBL partner for the past few months.

Here is what Halee Pruitt, a student working at Marketplace of Danielsville, had to say about working there.

"Working at Marketplace of Danielsville has been a great experience for me. I have become so close to the people who work there. They are like a second family. I was recently promoted to a Closing Manager position. I love the new experience from this promotion, and I love knowing they have that much trust in me. Through Work-Based Learning, I have been able to get a better feel of the real world and the real workforce."

Georgia Power, a platinum level member of the Chamber since 2021, graciously supports the Chamber's efforts in recognizing Chamber members that go above and beyond to grow a MADICO MADE Workforce.
