

DOT Training Sources

Updated 11/15/17

Following are two highly reputable, well-established sources for the training to help DCs prepare and sit for the NRCME exam. Take advantage of this opportunity to provide additional services in your practice and become certified and registered by the National Registry of Commercial Medical Examiners (NRCME) and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) to perform DOT exams.

This Accredited Online 12 hour course is comprehensive to prepare DCs to take and pass the National Registry Certification Test! The course is “online” and can be taken according to your schedule. You’ll have Unlimited Access to review all or part of the training whenever your wish. We’ve also included one month of free access to the critically acclaimed and challenging TeamCME Certification Practice Test on TeamCME.com.

This course was updated in January 2017 to include recent changes in FMCSA Medical Guidance. Those that complete the four (3 hour) sessions receive a PACE accredited certificate of completion from TeamCME qualifying them to take the National Registry Certification test.

TeamCME is a FMCSA National Registry Accredited Training Organization and satisfies the FMCSA training requirement for MDs, DOs, DCs, APNs, and PAs to take the National Registry Certification Test.

The TeamCME Initial Medical Examiner training is an Online On-Demand “distance learning” course hosted by ChiroCredit.com. CEs have been applied for most states that accept distance learning. Please contact ChiroCredit.com thru their website at www.ChiroCredit.com. Then confirm CE acceptance with your state licensing board. Include in the inquiry the distinction between a “Live” and an “On-Demand” distance learning event as they are usually treated differently for CE credit. Sessions: 301, 302, 303, 304 may be registered and paid individually, or all at once as a group.
