Adam Hovak, Chamber Chairman
Assured Information Security, Inc.

Without a doubt, 2020 has been like no other year that our business community has ever experienced. Situations are constantly in flux with many moving parts. Yet, circumstances and events have drawn all of us closer to one another, perhaps closer than we have ever been during our respective professional careers. The Chamber officers, directors, committee members, and staff are conferencing regularly and doing as much as we can to provide information and assistance. We will continue to advocate, promote, and inform in order to meet any and all challenges that lie ahead.

When you shop local, you are helping to save existing jobs and create new jobs for services, suppliers, and stores. And, the sales taxes generated by your purchases help local government meet its obligations to keep our community a safe place to live, work, and raise a family.

If you are new to Rome or still considering moving to our community, the information provided in these pages will show you that Rome is on the move, focused, and we haven't skipped a beat in our efforts to revitalize our city. New construction, new

Getting Here, Getting Around

A city of more than 72 square miles in upstate New York, Rome is in western Oneida County and part of the Mohawk River Valley, and has the distinction of being the second-largest city in area in New York State.

Oneida County is made up of three cities (Rome, Sherrill, and Utica), 26 towns, and 18 villages, and is located in central Upstate New York, situated with three exits (31, 32, 33) on the New York State Thruway (I-90).

The Mohawk River Valley encompasses 2,685 square miles and includes Oneida and Herkimer Counties. Twenty percent of the U.S. population lives within 300 miles of the Mohawk Valley, with four of the most populous

U.S. cities within 250 miles: New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Washington, DC.

Rome is "upstate" - one city among many in the 53 counties north and west of the core of the New York City "downstate" metropolitan area. (Upstate traffic is also a lot less congested, so you spend travel time moving, not waiting.)

“Above all else, Rome is a city that motivates its people to aspire for more, and is welcoming, challenging, and rewarding for anyone that has an idea or a dream and a plan to act on it. I have lived in different cities around the world and I believe Rome to be a sandbox for anyone that wants to work at making it a better place. Since my return to Rome in 2014 I have seen many encouraging strides the people of our city have made bringing the quality of life to a greater standard. As a young professional in the arts, the progress and passion I have witnessed encourages the hope that Rome can be a city people flock to for careers, for residence and, even as visitors, for fun-filled weekend getaways. Rome has given me career and civic engagement opportunities I likely wouldn't have in a bigger city. It is my belief that in light of this progress, more young people will decide to stay and help push Rome to greater tomorrows.”

Jonathon Matwijec-Walda,
Cinema Manager at the Capitol Arts Complex and Board of Education,
Rome City School District

“As a local Realtor, I am often asked why our home prices in Rome are so low compared with other parts of the country, but our taxes seem to be a bit on the high side. As a Rome resident myself, my thoughts on the topic are this: When property is widely affordable & taxes seem high, to me, that is indicative of a higher QUALITY of life. First, when owning property is an attainable possibility for a greater number of residents, that is always a plus for a city. More home ownership is KEY to a city's success.

Second, property taxes are used to pay for services that a city provides. In Rome's case, our city taxes include city sewer, unmetered water & garbage pick up. Additionally, here in Rome, we have CLEAN parks, city pools, well-maintained streets, beautifully landscaped public spaces, sidewalks, streetlights, a local hospital, fully renovated, state-of-the-art schools, several yearly events, as well as the advantages that come along with having a well-staffed city police force and fire department. Our quality of life here in Rome is soaring, and our taxes make all of that possible.”

Safe Neighborhoods

Rome is one of the safest large communities in New York State, and ranks well below the national average overall in crimes per 100,000 population, and in every major crime category. Rome also ranks favorably in comparison to surrounding residential communities.

A multi-faceted, full-time agency, the Rome Police Department has many specialized units, and a public-supported Community Policing Policy Program that includes Foot Beats and Mountain Bike Patrols, fostering community partnerships. In addition, the Rome PD has two K-9 patrols, a drug enforcement unit, Mohawk Trail patrols, and conducts activities annually on Law Enforcement Day. Other programs include "Shop with a Cop" for underprivileged children, and Kops for Kids, a cultural enhancement program.

safety. The Rome Police Department also participates in the Mohawk Valley Crimestoppers Network.

The City of Rome's professional paid Fire Department covers 72 square miles, and provides many services besides firefighting, including: emergency medical services (EMTD); fire inspections; fire prevention programs; public education for first aid, CPR, etc.; disaster planning and response; Haz-Mat response; vehicle extrication; water and ice rescue; trench and structure collapse search and rescue; high angle rescue; salvage and property conservation work; fire cause investigation; arson case work; juvenile counseling; high school internship program; and confined space rescue.

The Commissioner of Public Safety's oversight of Police, Fire and Animal Control Departments ensures that all residents and visitors of the City are afforded the opportunity to enjoy the highest possible quality of life.

Since its inception in 1999, the Rome Community Foundation has awarded more than $4 million to Rome area nonprofit organizations, meeting charitable needs in the community by funding capital project activities. In August 2020, the Community Foundation of Herkimer and Oneida Counties launched a two-county initiative to address racial equity and social justice issues, with a $10 million plan as an initial commitment. Rome is participating in this initiative, with local law enforcement, government, and community organizations involved in the establishment of 'impact centers' to assist our communities to continuously address these issues.

Paws-itively Rome!

Rome is a very pet-friendly city. From the beloved K-9 unit of the Rome Police Department, to the City of Rome "Bark Park", to the dedicated, active, compassionate Humane Society of Rome, Rome welcomes pets and the owners who love them.

The Rome Police Department currently has two canine teams that participate in public relations events, explaining the vital law enforcement benefits of the K-9 units: searching for evidence and narcotics, tracking and apprehending suspects, and crowd control.

The City of Rome maintains a "Bark Park", intended to support and foster a leash-free, clean and protected area for exercise, socialization, and education of both owners and their canine partners. Residents can download the application from the Parks and Recreation home page at RomeNewYork.com. Rome's Animal Control department makes every effort to handle stray pets and return lost and found dogs to their rightful owners. They also handle complaints for violations of City codes and ordinances regarding dogs and provide advice and referrals for handling wildlife.

The Humane Society of Rome (HSR) is a private non-profit organization that has worked with public and private animal-related organizations throughout the Mohawk Valley region since 1956, with the goal of nurturing all stray animals they receive to be healthy and adoptable.

38th Annual Honor America Days Parade - Last weekend in July, 2021

One of Central New York's largest spectacles of community pride and patriotic enthusiasm, the Honor America Days Parade steps off at 10 AM on Saturday with more than 100 units, including marching bands, community-designed floats competing for prizes, a flag-waving good time enjoyed by thousands of friends and families cheering from curb-side, storefronts, and front porches along two miles of city streets.

On Saturday evening at 8 PM, the great lawn at Fort Stanwix will once again host the annual Pops Concert performed by The Symphoria Symphony Orchestra, featuring the Syracuse Pops Chorus, popular show tunes, rousing marches, and a celebration of the American spirit along with cannon fire, the ringing of church bells, and a spectacular fireworks display during the 1812 Overture and the Stars and Stripes! This free event is presented each year by the Rome Area Chamber of Commerce and the City of Rome, in partnership with generous sponsors. For more information: www.romechamber.com.

In mid-July, more than 700 bicyclists and visitors will visit Rome and camp out on the lawn at Fort Stanwix National Monument, as a stop in the annual Cycling the Erie Canal event. The eight-day, 400-mile bicycle tour from Buffalo to Albany follows the historic and scenic Erie Canal, mostly on the traffic-free Canalway Trail.

The water tower near Bellamy Harbor Park is constantly lit, a lasting monument to the Erie Canal's Bicentennial celebrated in 2017 and dedicated to Rome's manufacturing heritage. The Park's Navigation Center complex has a boat launch and many amenities for canal travelers.

FAMOUS PLACES

The ceremonial ground breaking for the Erie Canal happened in Rome, New York on July 4, 1817. The Erie Canal connected the waters of the Atlantic Ocean with the waters of the Great Lakes, thus opening the west and making New York the Empire State.

The original Fort Stanwix played a vital role in the Revolutionary War during a prolonged siege in August 1777, and is known as "the fort that never surrendered." The site was designated a U.S. National Monument in 1935. In 1961 the site was designated a National Historic Landmark, and in 1966 it was added to the National Register of Historic Places. The fort was reconstructed in the 1970s by the National Park Service, creating the current Fort Stanwix National Monument. www.nps.gov/fost/learn/historyculture/index.htm https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Siege_of_Fort_Stanwix

The recent (2019) listing of Fort Wood Creek on the National Register of Historic Places, and a research project between the Rome Historical Society and Binghamton (SUNY) Public Archaeology Facility will help to recognize the importance of the region and Fort Bull during the region's pre-Revolutionary War history. The research is supported by a grant from the National Park Service's American Battlefield Protection Program.

Also making history...

Copper City Brewing Company (CCBC) was established to bring Rome's rich brewing history back to life. There hasn't been a microbrewery in town since the 1930s, when prohibition effectively shut down the brewing industry. CCBC dedicated itself to bringing brewing back into the community and is proud to be the first local microbrewery in over 8 decades! They renovated a structure that was built in the 1960's as a BBQ restaurant and you can still see the ovens in the wall. This building has been serving this hard-working town for many years, and CCBC promises to do just the same. Visit and celebrate Rome's rich history while you sample incredibly crafted beers.

HELPING STUDENTS THROUGH MENTORING – Staley Elementary School librarian Jill Schaal (standing), one of seven site coordinators for the Rome City School District Mentoring Program, looks on as students and mentors work on a “we are all connected” project during a mentoring session at Staley earlier this year. Since the Rome program was established in 2016, the Rome Area Chamber of Commerce has taken a major role in securing volunteer mentors from the community to help children reach their full potential.

CHAMBER PLAYS VITAL ROLE IN ROME MENTORING PROGRAM

The Rome City School District Mentoring Program – in partnership with the Rome Chamber and the New York State Mentoring Program – served 70 students in 2019 in weekly mentoring sessions, operating in all seven elementary schools.

The mission of the New York State Mentoring Program is to create positive mentor-mentee relationships using a school-based, one-to-one mentoring model, whereby mentors guide children in developing self-esteem and making positive life choices. The state program, which monitors hundreds of mentoring sites across New York, is chaired by founder and former New York First Lady Matilda R. Cuomo. Through its public outreach efforts, the Rome Area Chamber of Commerce has taken the lead role in recruiting approximately 200 volunteer mentors from the community over the past four years for the Rome City School District Mentoring Program. Earlier this year, Gov. Andrew M. Cuomo commended the Rome Area Chamber of Commerce for its “tireless efforts to cultivate and foster effective mentoring resources” in the community, and for its “extraordinary work in partnership with the New York State Mentoring Program.”

WHY ROME?

IT'S IN THE MOHAWK VALLEY!

The Mohawk Valley is within 500 miles of 13 of the top 50 U.S. markets, and is within a one-day drive from nearly half the population, personal income, business and sales in the United States and Canada. The City of Rome is moving forward on an aggressive plan to remediate aging facilities and real estate, create new shovel-ready sites, and improve infrastructure, appearance, incentives and amenities for businesses (and their employees) considering a move to Central New York (more detail, pp. 26-27).

The City of Rome and other locations in the Mohawk Valley have diverse selections of sites and facilities for business expansion in the region. With sites and facilities in downtown, suburban, business park and rural settings, and low costs to develop land, construct buildings and buy existing structures, Rome is determined to be a competitive consideration. RIDC is a private sector, non-profit economic development corporation established in 1959. Governed by a board of directors consisting of community-minded local business people, and staffed by business-friendly professionals.

RIDC's mission is "to maintain and improve the economic vitality and quality of life of the City of Rome and its environs by supporting, nurturing and encouraging its commercial, industrial and financial development".

EDGE and RIDC can help businesses with research, planning, financing, capital improvements, site selection and technical support. The City of Rome welcomes the opportunity to work with EDGE, when appropriate, to showcase its assets to prospective businesses. These locally concentrated industry groups have historically proven to fuel one another's growth and success in the Mohawk Valley. Such business networks lead to competitive advantages for existing companies and start-ups alike. EDGE has made a concentrated effort to seek out these clusters and provide an environment to foster their growth.

The Mohawk Valley has current strengths and growth potential in several industry clusters, particularly:

ADVANCED MANUFACTURING

With its central location, the Mohawk Valley is a natural hub for manufacturing and it has had a home in the region for over two centuries.

AGRIBUSINESS/ CRAFT FOOD & BEVERAGE

Proximity to major markets and low development costs, make the Mohawk Valley competitive for food processing.

AVIATION/UAS

One of seven FAA-designated unmanned aerial systems (UAS) test sites in the U.S, we are leading drone research and development in this innovative industry.

IT/CYBER

Led by the Air Force Research Laboratory Information Directorate in Rome, at a total annual economic impact of $467,097,767 in a five-county area, the Mohawk Valley has developed a significant niche in the technology industry over the last half century.

Rome, New York: Welcoming Business, Visitors, Residents

Jacqueline Izzo, Mayor
City of Rome

Economic development remains a top priority for the City of Rome, with continued improvements made possible City-wide through aggressive pursuit of grants and private investment. Here is an overview from Mayor Izzo's recent 2020 report:

- The $10 million Downtown Revitalization Initiative (DRI) is the cornerstone transforming the downtown area into a vibrant, mixed-use residential/business centerpiece with an emphasis on the arts and culture.
- Demolition of the Liberty/George Street parking garage cleared the way for site redevelopment with interim public parking surface with lighting and landscaping; end-use with a multiple story apartment building.
- Phase 2 of this revitalization project includes Copper City Commons, a multiuse landscaped streetscape area featuring hardscape improvements as well as three-season outdoor space for retailers along the former Liberty/ George parking garage corridor.
- Capitol Arts Complex has embarked on a $4 million project for additional multipurpose performance space, restoration of the grand 1928 theater and marquee, and a growing emphasis on the performing arts in the downtown superblock, supplemented with $2.5 million in DRI funding.
- Downtown Rome's REACH Center, through partnership with the Rust to Green Urban Studio (a program affiliated with Cornell Cooperative Extension of Oneida County) and 4 Elements Studio, will become the first regional Utica-Rome Creative Arts Incubator HUB, with an additional 8,000-10,000 sq. ft. of maker space.
- To attract those engaged in arts and culture to live in the growing downtown corridor, the new $16 million Copper City Lofts will provide 68 units of loft-style apartments for traditional- and new-media artists, performers and designers, bringing new creative energy to Rome's community and economy.
- Designs are almost complete for renovations to City Hall and the adjacent greenspace, for a community facility of approximately 3000 sq ft with public restrooms, allowing for climate-controlled indoor space to support quality of life activities focused in the downtown corridor.
- The downtown superblock area continues to grow: urgent care, dental offices, coffee shop, arts supply, and a company specializing in cybersecurity collaboration. Other planned improvements within the DRI catchment area include: a new CENTRO bus transfer station, modern, climate controlled with ample seating; new signage, intersection safety upgrades and strengthened pedestrian connections; design enhancements to Veterans and Gansevoort Parks, within the Bellamy Gansevoort Historic District; renovations for Rome Abraham House, a 6-bed facility, providing home-like environment for end of life care.

Priority improvements continue in the east quadrant of the city.

- Restoring the Woodhaven neighborhood; construction of Air City Lofts, a mixed-use development featuring 84 market rate apartments with 29,000 sq. ft. of commercial space in an urban setting within walking distance of Griffiss Park.
- Orgill, Inc., the fastest growing independent hardware distributor throughout the United States and Canada, is constructing its first Northeast distribution center of approximately 800,000 sq ft at Griffiss Park. Orgill expects to add 225 new jobs to the Rome site upon completion.
- Project Polaris, a 40,000 sq. ft. commercial building, is also under construction at the Griffiss Park. Owned by Bonacio Construction, Project Polaris plans to service defense related clients of nearby Rome Lab.
- Innovare at Griffiss Park opened in 2020, a collaborative effort of Oneida County, Rome Lab, SUNY and technology related companies. Bringing together academia and worldwide leading companies in science and technology, the open innovation center will also be the DoD lead in Quantum Computing, Artificial Intelligence (AI), machine learning and unmanned aerial systems research.
- Partnership, planning and grant funding efforts are paving the way for a new YMCA facility convenient to use by Woodhaven residents, Mohawk Valley Community College staff and students, and Griffiss Park residents and employees.
- Activity at Griffiss Park continues to flourish: expansions at AIS and NYSTEC; awards for Sovena USA olive oil company; renovations at the Oneida County Airport at Griffiss Park; Operations Center for Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS) at the Griffiss Test Site; expansion of the Mohawk River Trail.

(See pages 30-33 for more details about Griffiss Business and Technology Park.)

Under construction: a new 50,000 sq ft manufacturing facility in west Rome for Cold Point Corporation, recognized industry-wide as the premier supplier of OEM (original equipment manufacturer) style replacement units.

In East Rome:

- New businesses are upgrading old facilities; remediation and improvements continue in the City's entry corridor to market properties to potential new business interests. Street reconstructions, new streetscapes with pedestrian crossings, bike pavement marking, landscaping and sidewalk improvements continue as funding allows.
- A $14.5M renovation, complete interior and exterior, of the 74-unit Colonial Apartment complex is currently underway. In addition to restoring the exterior façade, residents will also have brand new apartments.

In South Rome:

- A $25 million project DePaul Properties just completed DeWitt Clinton Apartments which provides new housing options with 66 midmarket range apartments and 14 townhouse style units. The "Waterfront Village" scenic overlook trail enhancement project, extending improvements to the west along the canal. In close proximity to the DeWitt Clinton Apartments, this area will offer a great spot for walkers or bikers to take advantage of the historic canal.

On Rome's southeast entry corridor:

- Remediation, demolition and environmental cleanup are completed in anticipation of marketing the former Rome Turney Radiator factory.

West Rome:

- Superfund remediation and demolition projects continue, making way for new business/manufacturing space and new industrial park, relocation of growing businesses, and continuation of beautification efforts of the downtown. Cold Point Corporation is building a new 50,000 sq. ft. facility at the former Rome Cable site. The NYS DEC is completing demolition and remediation of the remaining structures of the former Rome Cable, allowing the City of Rome to market the site as a companion project to that of Cold Point Corporation. The extensive in-city portion of the Canalway Trail will benefit from signage and accessibility improvements at crosswalks. Complete streetscape reconstruction with a public art component will connect West Rome to downtown. Improvements will include green infrastructure drainage, dedicated bike lanes, enhanced pedestrian crossings and landscaping.

North Rome:

- A new Hannaford Supermarket, the chain's largest at 49,000 sq. ft., is open for business. The new store facilitates better pedestrian connections, streetscape and intersection improvements will continue.
- The Delta Luxury Apartments is completing its final phase buildout with an additional 16 market rate units to bring a total of 64 luxury apartments to north Rome on Merrick Road.

Municipally-owned infrastructure improvements are ongoing: Rome's City Hall; Liberty/James Street Parking Garage; Rome's Wastewater Treatment Plant; Water Filtration Plant; DPW garage; train station; bridges; streets maintenance; city parks and Kennedy Arena; police and fire departments; blight control, parking, green spaces; city sidewalks; recreation programming year-round involving all city parks and facilities.

WHY GRIFFISS BUSINESS AND TECHNOLOGY PARK?

LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

(and it's a world-class Business Park)

Griffiss Business and Technology Park is a vibrant center for private and public enterprise in Rome, New York. Scores of tenants employing thousands of people make Griffiss one of the most successful business and technology parks in the United States. Covering 3,500 acres, Griffiss has development districts with specific focuses in technology, manufacturing, aviation, office, education and recreation. Griffiss has efficient highway, air, and rail access to important U.S. and international trade centers. The four-lane Griffiss Parkway provides a direct north-south connection to major regional highways and downtown Rome. Griffiss is within 15 minutes of three New York State Thruway interchanges (Interstate 90). Griffiss Park is within 500 miles of 17 of the top 50 U.S. markets and a day's truck run from half of the population, personal income, business and sales in the U.S. and Canada. All of this, surrounded by the natural beauty and desirable lifestyle of the Mohawk Valley.

The Griffiss International Airport (GIA) with its 2.23-mile long runway has all the advantages of big city airports, without the heavy traffic and high costs of major metro areas. Griffiss International Airport offers significantly fewer surface and air delays, and faster turn-around times. Air traffic is a breeze and ground traffic is minimal. There is no bidding for landing slots, and no wasted fuel waiting to land or take off. It's a cost efficient, easily accessible alternative to the Boston/NYC /Washington D.C. corridor.

Griffiss Park is the location of choice for organizations that are recognized globally, and have global impact through innovative research, products and services.

Air Force Research Laboratory

AFRL is the primary scientific research and development center for the Department of the Air Force. AFRL plays an integral role in leading the discovery, development, and integration of affordable warfighting technologies for our air, space, and cyberspace force. AFRL provides a diverse portfolio of science and technology ranging from fundamental to advanced research and technology development. The AFRL Information Directorate leads the Air Force and Nation in Command, Control, Communications, Computers, and Intelligence (C4I) and cyber science, technology, research and development. Many Griffiss Park tenants benefit from AFRL's close proximity.

Designed to accommodate year-round testing of UAS, the Sky Dome facility is immediately adjacent to the space shared by the AFRL-RI, the Griffiss Institute, and SUNY in the Innovare Advancement Center Complex.

The Griffiss Institute (GI) was established in 2002, to advocate and facilitate the co-operation of private industry, academia, and the Air Force Research Laboratory Information Directorate (AFRL/RI), in developing solutions to critical cyber security problems. Another prime role is to build upon technologies under development at the AFRL/RI to further strengthen our nation's security. By partnering AFRL with private industry and academia, the GI is able to facilitate and grow the technology base of the Upstate New York region. The GI is focused on providing an environment conducive to the growth of technology and ideas, by creating a collaborative research environment accessible to AFRL, business, and academia. The goal is to foster research leading to new solutions in information sciences and spinning out new business opportunities, locally and nationally. DRONES AT HOME IN ROME

The Northeast UAS Airspace Integration Research Alliance (NUAIR) is a regional alliance of private industry, academic institutions and military assets and operations working together on the established Federal Aviation Administration-designated Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS) test site. In December 2013, Griffiss International Airport (GIA) was named one of seven federally-designated UAS sites for testing and research to begin to safely integrate drones (unmanned vehicles) and systems into the National Airspace System.

The UAS Test Site at Griffiss has completed over 2,600 UAS test flights, using small, medium and large UAS, in five states, and in two Class D airspace locations, equating to over 650 total flight hours. In 2019 the initiative realized one of its most audacious goals, the completion of New York's 50-mile beyond visual line of sight (BVLOS) corridor. The state-supported 50-mile unmanned traffic management (UTM) drone corridor runs from Central New York to the Mohawk Valley. The first-in-the-nation corridor is the most advanced drone testing corridor in the nation. With the needed infrastructure now in place, companies will be able to test both unmanned aerial systems platforms and UTM technologies in real world settings, generating data that will inform the industry and regulators and progress one step closer towards the routine commercial use of drones. The completion of the corridor advances the regions' collective strategy to accelerate and support emerging uses of UAS in key industries, including agriculture and forest management, transportation and logistics, media and film development, utilities and infrastructure and public safety.

The announcement came on the heels of another significant advancement, authorization for "true" BVLOS flights within the first segment of the corridor, an eight-by-four-mile strip of airspace between the Test Site in Rome and the State Preparedness Training Center in Oriskany, New York. This authorization is evidence of the capabilities that have been established along the corridor – proving the ability to safely fly unmanned aircraft BVLOS. The strategic selection of this airspace opens the door for future advancements of the corridor and the continued cooperation between NUAIR, the Test Site and New York State agencies.

In August 2020, Oneida County was awarded an $897,000 task order for Advanced Air Mobility development through a NASA contract with its UAS Test Site at GIA. The site will conduct research for NASA in automation technology to support high-density vertiport operations that allow for vertical take-off and landing aircraft. Visit www.nuairalliance.org for more information on NUAIR.

strategic investments made to beautify and diversify the Park. In 2019, GPLA invested roughly $20,000 in park-wide improvements.

Phase 1 of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial was dedicated Memorial Day 2020. The Memorial was built at the Griffiss International Sculpture Garden on a site donated by the Griffiss Local Development Corp next to "Alley Oop". The memorial has a permanent plaque in honor of the 12 Romans who were killed in Vietnam. Phase 2 of the Memorial is currently in the design phase, including acquisition of a Vietnam-era UH-1 Huey helicopter made possible by donations to the NYS Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, Inc. The Huey will be restored by a team that includes students from the MVCC Aviation Training Center.

Shade trees were planted along the Griffiss Nature Trail as part of a 5-year plan and connections were completed to the Mohawk River Trail. An Open Space Management Plan was drafted in 2019 which includes new wayfinding signage for 2020 installation. The number of food trucks at the Park has increased dramatically over the past few years. To address concerns about lack of seating by Park tenants, GPLA and GLDC installed new picnic tables and shade umbrellas to encourage patronage of this great asset.

Rome housing project earns plaudits from state group

BY JENNIFER CLEGG
Staff Writer

The Rome Area Housing Authority (RAHA) has been selected by the New York State Office of General Services (OGS) to develop and manage a new affordable housing project in Rome. The project, located on the former site of the former Rome Air Development Center, will consist of 100 units of affordable housing. The project is expected to be completed in 2022.

The project is a significant milestone for the RAHA, as it marks the first time the authority has been selected by the OGS to develop and manage a new affordable housing project. The project is also a significant milestone for the Rome community, as it will provide much-needed affordable housing for the area's residents.

The project is a result of a partnership between the RAHA and the OGS. The RAHA is responsible for the development and management of the project, while the OGS is responsible for providing the funding for the project. The project is expected to be completed in 2022.

PROJECT RENDERING — The new affordable housing project, located on the former site of the former Rome Air Development Center, will consist of 100 units of affordable housing. The project is expected to be completed in 2022.

Structural work is in progress at the Marcy Nanocenter, just a few miles from Rome. Cree, Inc. is building a $1 billion, 200 mm silicon-carbide wafer fabrication facility, expected to begin production in 2022. The fully automated manufacturing facility will be the world's largest silicon wafer fab for chips used by electric vehicles, eventually employing more than 600 workers over eight years.
