Come Discover The Natural Beauty, History And Cultural Charm of Putnam County...

Check out these locations for fishing, hunting, hiking, canoeing, wildlife viewing and equestrian trails. They are not only known for the abundance of wildlife, but also scenic views. Many trails are multi-use, so remember to share paths.

Caravelle Ranch Conservation Area

24,869 acres of river bottom hardwoods, pasture and pine-palmetto flatwoods with small hammocks intermingled. Camping is allowed with a permit. No dogs or ATVs are permitted. Located on S.R. 19 South, approximately 9 miles south of Palatka.

There are a series of trails that are mixed use and traverse through a variety of ecosystems. Picnic area and wildlife viewing are available. Seasonal use is included for hiking, biking, boating and canoeing.

Several equestrian trail areas are available which are accessible at the S.R. 19 entrance.

View sparrows, turkeys, wading birds, and swallowtail kites.

Hunting season is from September to March. Turkey hunting is excellent, while deer, migratory bird, small game, and wild hog hunting are fair to good. A special-opportunity dove hunt is offered on four 50-acre dove fields. Be aware, trails are closed during hunting season.

For more information, contact the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation, Northeast Region Office, 1239 S.W. 10th St., Ocala, FL. (352) 732-1225.

Putnam County is home to three of the "Top 10" fisheries in Florida, as designated by the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission. The climate ensures excellent fishing year round.

While known as the "Bass Capital of the World," Putnam offers a wide variety of freshwater, saltwater and brackish water fishing. Freshwater species includes largemouth bass, black crappie, bluegill, shellcracker and catfish. Salt water species includes red fish, flounder, sea trout and tarpon. In the summer and early fall months, shrimp migrate up the St. Johns River and are easily caught off docks or by boat with cast nets.

Lake George, the second largest lake in Florida after Lake Okeechobee, is not only one of the premier largemouth bass fishing lakes, it is also perfect for crappie and blue gill.

If you are looking for catfish, the St. Johns River and Dunns Creek are top spots for channel catfish and white catfish. Big channel catfish are usually reported in the upper and lower St. Johns River and Dunns Creek system from early May through June. Small catfish can be caught all year, but best fishing occurs in the spring and fall. This area is listed as a top spot according to Florida Fish and Wildlife Commission.

The St. Johns River is also a prime spot for catching striped bass and sunshine bass, with fish in the 8 to 12-pound range being common. Striped bass move through the system during fall and winter. Popular spots include Memorial Bridge, and the jetties and bombing ranges in Lake George.

Etoniah Creek State Forest

Etoniah Creek State Forest named for Etoniah Creek, has 7,145 acres of pine-palmetto flatwoods, sand hill, hardwood hammocks, and creek bottoms.

Recreational activities in the forest include hiking, fishing, hunting, nature study, wildlife viewing and photography. There is one designated trail for horseback riding and trails for bicycling will be established in the future.

Deer, squirrel and turkey hunting are good, while wild hog, migratory bird, and small game hunting is fair.

Camping is authorized only by permit from the Division of Forestry. No dogs or ATVs are permitted. Etoniah Creek State Forest is located in the north-west part of the County off S.R. 100 on Holloway Rd. For more information, contact Etoniah Creek State Forest, 390 Holloway Road, Florahome, FL. (386) 329-2552

St. Johns River and Tributaries

For nearly 300 miles, the twisted course of the St. Johns River runs northward, up nearly one half the length of the state.

William Bartram explored the river in 1773, however the source of the river wasn't charted until 1822. Flowing northward, the St. Johns passes through nine lakes, eventually emptying into the Atlantic Ocean.

The waterways in Putnam County are popular for boating activities, including sailing, kayaking and canoeing. The riverbanks are perfect for viewing wildlife, so make sure to bring binoculars. The annual Mug Race held the first Saturday in May draws hundreds of sailboats of all shapes and sizes.

Marjorie Harris Carr Cross Florida Greenway, Kenwood and Rodman Recreation Area

Crossing Central Florida from the St. Johns River to the Gulf of Mexico, the Cross Florida Greenway is a 110-mile corridor that crosses a variety of natural habitats.

Putnam County is the east trailhead for the Greenway, with several recreation areas including Kenwood and Rodman Recreation Areas, located on Rodman Reservoir, Buckman Lock and the St. Johns Loop Trails.

At the trailhead, south of Palatka, there are a series of trails that include a 4.5-mile hiking trail that meanders through natural woodlands of cypress wetlands and hydric hammocks.

The Putnam County segment of the 1,300-mile footpath for the Florida National Scenic Trail is accessible at the Cross Florida Greenway. The trail runs north to Rice Creek Sanctuary, connects with the Palatka-to-Lake Butler Trail and Etoniah State Forest. For more information, contact Florida Trail Association. 1-(877) HIKE-FLA.

The St. Johns Loop trail has a 2-mile equestrian trail that travels along the south side of the Cross Florida Barge Canal.

Cross Florida Greenway, Kenwood and Rodman Recreation Areas provide observation spots for viewing all types of birds, including limpkin, coot, common gallinule, wood ducks, swallowtail kite, osprey, southern bald eagle, woodpeckers, jays, hawks, flycatchers, wrens, heron, white ibis, and a variety of egrets.

Recommended launch area for the Oklawaha River for boating, kayaking and canoeing is located at Rodman Recreation Dam and pull out is located at the S. R. 19 Bridge.

Camping is available by reservation at Rodman Recreation area. Sites include Recreational vehicle hook-ups, bathrooms and primitive campsites for tents. To reserve a site, call (386) 328-2846.

The Cross Florida Greenway is located approximately 9 miles south of Palatka on S. R. 19. To get to Rodman Dam, travel south on S. R. 19 to Rodman Recreation Area. Turn right on Rodman Dam Road and follow to the Dam launch.

Equestrian Trails

Remember - All horses must have proof of current negative Coggins Test results when on state lands.

Murphy Creek & Island

Murphy Creek is approximately 4 miles long and runs along the east bank of Murphy Island, located at the confluence of Dunns Creek and the St. Johns River. Paddlers can put in at Brown's Landing Road south of Palatka and paddle across the St. Johns River at Marker 16 to the mouth of Dunns Creek.

Murphy Creek Conservation Area has 1,707 acres that are predominantly hardwood swamp. Murphy Island contains one of the few upland areas along the St. Johns River that can be reached by boat. Primitive camping is permitted at designated sites only in Murphy Creek Conservation Area. The entrance to the conservation area is located off of U.S. 17, west on C.R. 309-B. A parking area is approximately one-half mile on the north side of the road.

Access to Murphy Island is by boat only. For more information, contact the St. Johns River Water Management District Division of Land Management at (386) 329-4404.

Welaka State Forest Trails

A series of foot trails offers the public an opportunity to walk and observe wildlife. While walking the trails of Welaka State Forest, look for woodpeckers, eagles, hawks, wrens, warblers, Osceola turkey, heron, egrets, and owls.

The Sandhill Horse Trail is available for equestrian use, as well as hiking. Welaka State Forest also manages a 72-horse stable, training arenas and horse show arena, which are all available for rental.

Welaka State Forest has 2,288 acres of various ecosystems along the east bank of the St. Johns River. The Division of Forestry maintains the integrity of the natural systems while allowing outdoor recreation use and environmental education, including complete equestrian facilities. Welaka State Forest is located approximately 17 miles south of Palatka on C.R. 309, one mile south of the town of Welaka. For more information, contact the Welaka State Forest at (386) 467-2388.

Welaka Fish Hatchery

A 3/4 mile footpath that travels through natural pine forest. Picnic area, wildlife observation deck and interpretive information is available.

The Hatchery's ponds attract fish-eating wading birds, eagles, ospreys, hawks, waders, white ibis, sandhill cranes, kingfishers and mergansers.

Lake George Conservation Area

More than 10 miles of horse trails traverse through this conservation area. There are several access points to Lake George Conservation area. Trail use is limited during hunting season.

Located in Putnam and Volusia Counties, Lake George Conservation Area has 35,380 acres of planted pine plantations, oak hammocks, bayheads, and dense creek swamps. Camping is allowed with a permit. No ATVs allowed. Lake George Conservation Area is located 3 miles west of Crescent City on Georgetown-Denver Rd. For more information, contact the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation, Northeast Region Office, 1239 S.W. 10th St., Ocala, FL. (352) 732-1225.

Lake Butler - Palatka Trail

Replacing abandoned railroad lines, the Lake Butler-Palatka Trail is part of a larger project goal to connect St. Augustine to Lake City and make the total length of paved trail more than 100 miles. Currently sections of the trail are developed, but not all sections connect. Sections from Keystone Heights to Grandin and the urban Palatka section are completed. The trail heads can be found on U.S. 17 along this route. Trails are still under construction and will be opened as completed. For more information and status updates on the trail, contact Ravine Gardens State Park at (386) 329-3721 or the Putnam County Chamber of Commerce at (386) 328-1503.

Ravine Gardens State Park

Ravine Gardens is a representation of the never-ending shaping that occurs by Florida's water flow. The steep ravine was created by water flowing from beneath the sandy ridges that flank the west shore of the St. Johns River. In 1933, the Federal Works Administration (WPA) created a dramatic garden landscape in the ravine with azaleas and other exotic plantings. The landscape still flourishes as formal gardens with hiking trails. The garden's peak flowering period is late January to April.

The hardwood forest provides the ideal habitat for cedar waxwings, cardinals, mocking birds, robins, woodpeckers, jays, bald eagles, hummingbirds, and a variety of butterflies.

Recreation facilities include picnic areas, ornamental gardens, numerous hiking trails and a 1.8 mile paved perimeter loop trail that traverses along the upper rim of this 80-acre ravine. A community civic center complex is available for meetings, weddings and special events. Open daily from 8:00 a.m. to sunset. Located at 1600 Twigg Street, Palatka (386) 329-3721.

Ocala National Forest

Located in Marion, Putnam and Lake Counties, the Ocala National Forest has 382,408 acres that range from dense sand pine-scrub oak communities to wet and dry prairies to longleaf pine-palmetto flatwoods. Camping, dogs and ATVs are allowed.

Small game hunting is good, and deer and turkey hunting is fair to good. Hunters could encounter bears while hunting.

To access, travel south on S.R. 19 from Palatka approximately 15 miles. For more information, contact the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation, Northeast Region Office, 1239 S.W. 10th St., Ocala, FL. (352) 732-1225.

Get a Hunting License

Toll free 1-888-486-8356 from anywhere in the United States or Canada. You'll receive a temporary license and a permanent one will be mailed within 48 hours.

Georgia-Pacific Wildlife Management Area

3,661 acres of creek bottom hardwoods and pine-palmetto flatwoods. Camping is allowed with a permit. No dogs or ATVs are allowed. Small game and turkey hunting is good, while deer, wild hog, and migratory bird hunting is fair.

Georgia-Pacific Wildlife Management Area is located west of Palatka on S.R. 100. For more information, contact Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Northeast Region Office, 1239 S.W. 10th St., Ocala, FL. (352) 732-1225.

Dunns Creek State Park

6,200 acres of natural Florida wilderness with more than 17 natural communities. Blue Pond Trail is a 2.5-mile loop hiking trail in Dunns Creek State Park. Picnic and wildlife viewing areas are available. The park is currently under development and will include a campground, trails, picnic areas, a small boat ramp, canoe/kayak launch, boardwalks, overlooks and equestrian facilities. Twice annually, the park hosts an open house for visitors which includes a boat tour, trail rides for equestrians, poker run for kayakers and trail rides for cyclists. Located on U.S. 17, north of Pomona Park. For more information, contact Ravine Gardens State Park at (386) 329-3721.

Dunns Creek Conservation Area

More than 5 miles of hiking, bicycling and equestrian trails travel through the conservation area, but are restricted during hunting season. Picnic area and primitive camping are available at designated sites. The swamp and upland communities support a variety of animals, including numerous salamander species, toads, frogs, snakes, alligators, bobcats, raccoons, white-tailed deer and gray fox. Birds typically present include migratory and resident species such as yellow-crowned night heron, wood ducks, swallow-tailed kites, red-shouldered hawks, barred owls, woodpeckers and warblers. Travel south from Palatka on U.S. 17 and turn east on S.R. 100. Go approximately three miles to Tram Road. Take Tram Road about one-half mile to the entrance. For more information, contact the District's Bureau of Land Management at (386) 329-4404.
