

WHAT SETS US APART

Enhancing your career, enhancing your knowledge, enhancing your financial status and enhancing your spare time is the goal of NAFV

Leadership Opportunities to Build a Resume

Often your work location and commitments restrict the opportunities to take on leadership roles. You can build your skills and resume by volunteering to lead a NAFV Committee or to be a NAFV coordinator. Demonstrate your leadership qualities by hosting a face to face or virtual meeting with your colleagues. Lead an interagency policy team to further the role and status of public practice. Topics could include veterinary loan repayment programs, food safety or communicable disease outbreaks threatening the human and animal populations.

JOIN US AND BE A PART OF A NETWORK THAT SUPPORTS

Professionalism and expertise in federal service while promoting continuing education, teamwork and excellence

Serving the federal veterinarian for 100 years

100 years
of service

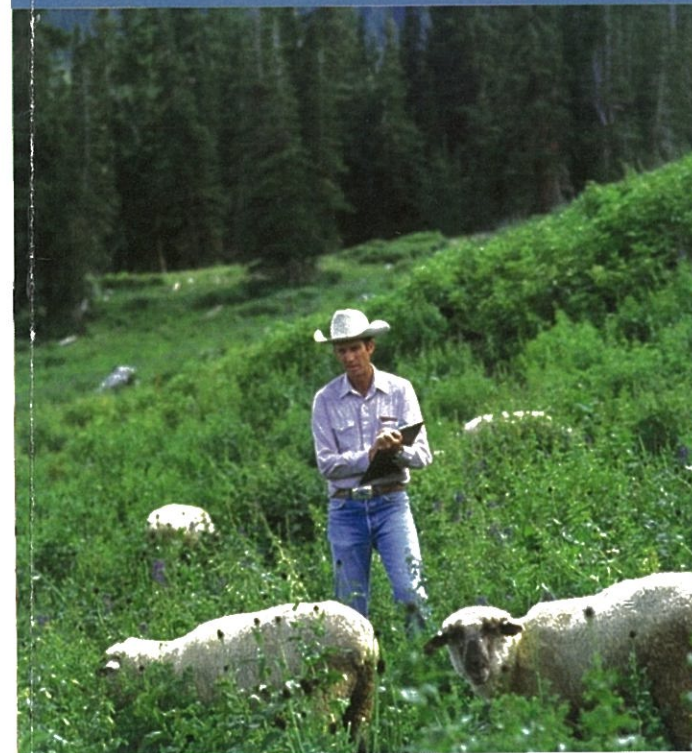

1910 Sunderland PI, NW
Washington, DC 20036

tel. (202) 223-4878

NAFV@nafv.org

www.nafv.org

Be a part of the only organizations representing federal veterinarians and delivers:

Continuing Education

Career Development

Work-Life Balance

Financial Literacy

Legal Advice

Agency Consultations

Discount Programs and more

WHAT DOES NAFV DO FOR ITS MEMBERS

Amplifies your voice - You are no longer a lone voice in the wilderness. Through NAFV you have a megaphone to shout from the highest mountain tops.

Protects your rights - When Congress and Administrations try to change the rules on you, we partner with multiple associations representing federal employees to get your voices heard.

Improves your work life - Our members and their Agencies share the common goal of improving human, animal or environmental health through the application of best practices in professional veterinary medicine.

Fights for you - We advocate for you, be it as a manager, supervisor or employee. Our goal is to improve your ability to deliver the highest standards of veterinary public practice for your stakeholders.

GO TO OUR WEBSITE TO LEARN MORE AND JOIN

Provides networking and educational opportunities - Join our Facebook page and discuss postings of the day with your colleagues and friends. Or join our closed "NAFV Members" page to seek advice, see what other members are discussing and share your knowledge and expertise to help someone.

Improves your personal life - Reduced stress from work with our programs allows you to relax and listen to the Financial Wellness Webinars or the Work Life Balance webinars.

Conducting regular consultations with Agency leadership to achieve the common goal of delivering expertise in veterinary public practice