Do Action Training Systems courses certify someone to become a firefighter in Texas?

Our courses do not in-and-of themselves provide certification. Our courses teach to current NFPA standards and are designed to be used as a part of an overall program of instruction led by an instructor. Our courses are a teaching tool as are manuals and PowerPoint presentations.

Example of a training program session:

An instructor might assign students to:

- Read a chapter in IFSTA's Essentials of Fire Fighting or Jones & Bartlett's Fundamentals manual
- Successfully complete the corresponding ATS courses that line up with the material in that chapter
- Attend an instructor-led classroom discussion about that material and department specific SOGs
- Attend a hands-on training session to practice the skills studied

Completing an entire program of instruction with all of these elements can help meet the requirements for certification.

Always consult with your regulatory body regarding your protocols for certification.

Use ATS courses for initial training or Fire CE

We are approved by the Texas Commission on Fire Protection for 1 hour of Fire CE per course.
