How the Evergreen Chamber Supports Our Community

The mission of the Evergreen Chamber is to grow our local economy by building business relationships, promoting the community and representing local concerns with our county government.

Local business owners know the Chamber is here to give them credibility, visibility and connectivity to current and potential customers. We are a membership organization and these businesses pay to be a part of their local chamber. BUT, did you know that part of their dues also goes towards the other two pieces of our mission statement? Promoting the community and making sure the Jefferson County government representatives hear from a strong, collective voice about our mountain concerns is also what we do.

Promoting the community, how do we do it? We operate the Visitor's Center for Evergreen giving out maps, local information and general assistance to over 500 people per month. Our website that showcases businesses, community events, recreational opportunities and more receives over 15,000 page views per month. Outside of town we advertise Evergreen as a tourist destination through the Lariat Loop, Visit Denver, Facebook, Colorado Serenity Magazine, all of the Evergreen Newspapers publications including the Columbine Courier and Clear Creek Courant, Quality Connections, Thirst Magazine, DIA, and other Chambers of Commerce and Visitor's Centers across the state. We host community events to bring locals together such our nonprofit/volunteer awards, business awards, two annual community appreciation parties, the Taste of Evergreen and the annual Santa Breakfast at the Lake House.

How do we represent local concerns with our county government? Again, our businesses pay a membership fee to be a part of the chamber. Part of their support goes toward time spent educating the county commissioners, assessors, the school superintendent, sheriff and others about what is going on in the mountain community. We are part of unincorporated Jefferson County, but the Chamber staff and Board work hard to communicate what our businesses are concerned about and what our residents are concerned about. I personally meet with the Jefferson County Commissioner (it was Don Rosier, is now Tina Francone) to educate her on community feedback. The power of a collective voice is stronger than an individual and your Evergreen Chamber proudly accepts the responsibility to communicate on behalf of residents and businesses owners alike.

In closing, the Evergreen Chamber supports our community in a variety of ways. The membership dollars of local business owners are pooled together to not only promote and grow our economy but to support our mountain area and to continue to make our voices heard at the county level.

Please remember to thank businesses in town for being a part of the Evergreen Area Chamber of Commerce. It takes a village to create and grow success. Together we can continue to be a part of this amazing mountain community.

Evergreen Rotary News

Peruvian Hearts

Founded by Ana Dodson in 2003 when she was only 11 years old, Peruvian Hearts is a nonprofit organization based in Golden, with the mission of educating and enabling impoverished girls in Peru to accomplish their dreams and transform the futures of their families and communities. In Peru, only 36% of girls graduate from secondary school, the American equivalent of eleventh grade. Peruvian Hearts supports around thirty scholars in Cusco and Lima with full educational scholarships to secondary school, college prep academies, as well as national universities, private colleges and vocational institutes. The program has been supported by the Evergreen Rotary Club for many years.

Evergreen High School junior and Rotary intern, Lily Mott has partnered with Peruvian Hearts to raise $10,000 in the hopes of traveling to Peru and providing all thirty girls with laptops as well as to establish an internship program through which the scholars could travel to Colorado for cultural and linguistic immersion while staying with professionals in the area.

Eagle Scout Project Behind Collection, Retirement Of Flags

The United States Flag Code gives instructions for everything from folding the flag to flying a flag correctly. The American Legion and one Boy Scout came together for Coloradans looking to respectfully retire their used or old flags.

Matt Bacher has been raising money and organizing for these boxes to be built for his Eagle Scout project. "There's not a lot of great resources for flag retirement and so I wanted to give the opportunity for the community to put in their own flag retirement for proper disposal," said Matt.

In January he placed his eighth flag retirement box at Evergreen National Bank. The first flag placed in this box was by the bank itself.
