To Whom This Concern:

With this letter, I wish to express my strong interest in getting experience in the home building industry. An eager learner, hard worker, and a creative person, I believe I would bring several areas of creativity and professionalism to your company or store.

Having graduated from mortuary school and working at a local funeral home, I have much knowledge in the area of client centered service. Naturally creative, I have an excellent work ethic, strong communication skills, and, as one would say, an eye for design.

My record, both academic and career, is one of solid accomplishments and increasing levels of responsibility. Self-motivated with an enthusiasm for meeting set goals, I have consistently produced quality work that sets me apart from other individuals. It would be a great honor to come and add my creativity to your company. If there is anything that I could add to my profile to help make your decision, please contact me at 770.656.4881

Sincerely,

Rashaad Lyntrez Ansley
