

Kim Schrier (D)

It has been my honor to serve the families of the 8th district for the past two decades, first as a community pediatrician, and now as your member of Congress. In my first two years I've hosted more than 65 town halls and traveled more than 10,000 miles across the district meeting with constituents. I've brought your concerns to Congress, and particularly during the COVID-19 pandemic I've gone to bat for our small businesses, farmers, rural hospitals, and families through our public health and economic response. I helped pass and have worked with small business owners to deliver on the Payroll Protection Program, and in the end more than 11,000 small businesses in the 8th district benefited from these loans, helping retain more than 108,000 jobs in the district. As the only member from the Northwest on the Agriculture Committee, I've worked with members of both parties in our delegation to provide assistance to our farmers during the pandemic as well. Jesse Jensen (R)

Jesse is an all-American son of a pastor, Army Ranger and veteran, and an extremely dedicated and hard-working Washingtonian. He served our country by deploying on four combat tours, brought every member of his team home and was awarded several commendations including two Bronze Stars for his service. Jesse graduated from George Washington University and has an M.B.A. from Columbia University. He's worked in the U.S. Senate, for a healthcare company saving and improving the quality of lives for patients, and as a technology innovator for Microsoft and Amazon. He lives with his wife and three kids in Bonney Lake. He is a candidate to represent Washington's 8th Congressional District in the U.S. House. He will bring servant leadership and common sense solutions back to DC. More info can be found at www.jessejensen2020.com.
