

SUSAN MCMENAMIN

Susan McMenammin is the Chief Human Resource Officer for The Hill at Whitemarsh, a five star continuing care retirement community in Lafayette Hill, PA. Susan was part of the startup team in 2007 and oversees the human capital elements of the business ranging from recruiting, retention, engagement, employee relations, training and education, benefits, diversity and inclusion, HR compliance and all other related human resource areas.

During her time at The Hill, Susan has had the pleasure of seeing the employee population grow from the start up team of about 10 to the current employment count of over 360 employees, which includes a separate home care entity, Hill Home Services.

Susan earned her MBA through St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia. Susan holds SPHR and SHRM-SCP certifications and is a Board Certified Coach. Susan is a member of Philadelphia Society of People and Strategy, Society of Human Resource Management, and serves on the Steering Committee of L&D Professionals of Philadelphia, a learning and development professional association.