

VALERIE HIGGINS

A distinguished and recognized leader in the Life Sciences and Healthcare IT sectors, Valerie Higgins is the President & Managing Director of Almac's Clinical Technologies Division. Since joining Almac nearly 22 years ago, Ms. Higgins has held numerous leadership roles, in which she was charged with direct responsibility for the overall commercial and operational success of the company.

Almac Clinical Technologies is the leading provider of Interactive Response Technologies (IRT) to the clinical trial market and employs 675 employees globally.

In her tenure as President and Managing Director of Almac's Clinical Technologies Business Unit, Ms. Higgins, has built a world class team of professionals who she partnered with to refresh the organizations strategy, strengthen its innovation capabilities, and maximize the effectiveness of its operational performance resulting in a doubling of the organizations EBITDA and moving the organization into the market leader position.

Higgins holds a Bachelor of Arts from Rutgers University, and is based in Almac's Souderton, Pennsylvania office.