

Prior Lake Bathroom

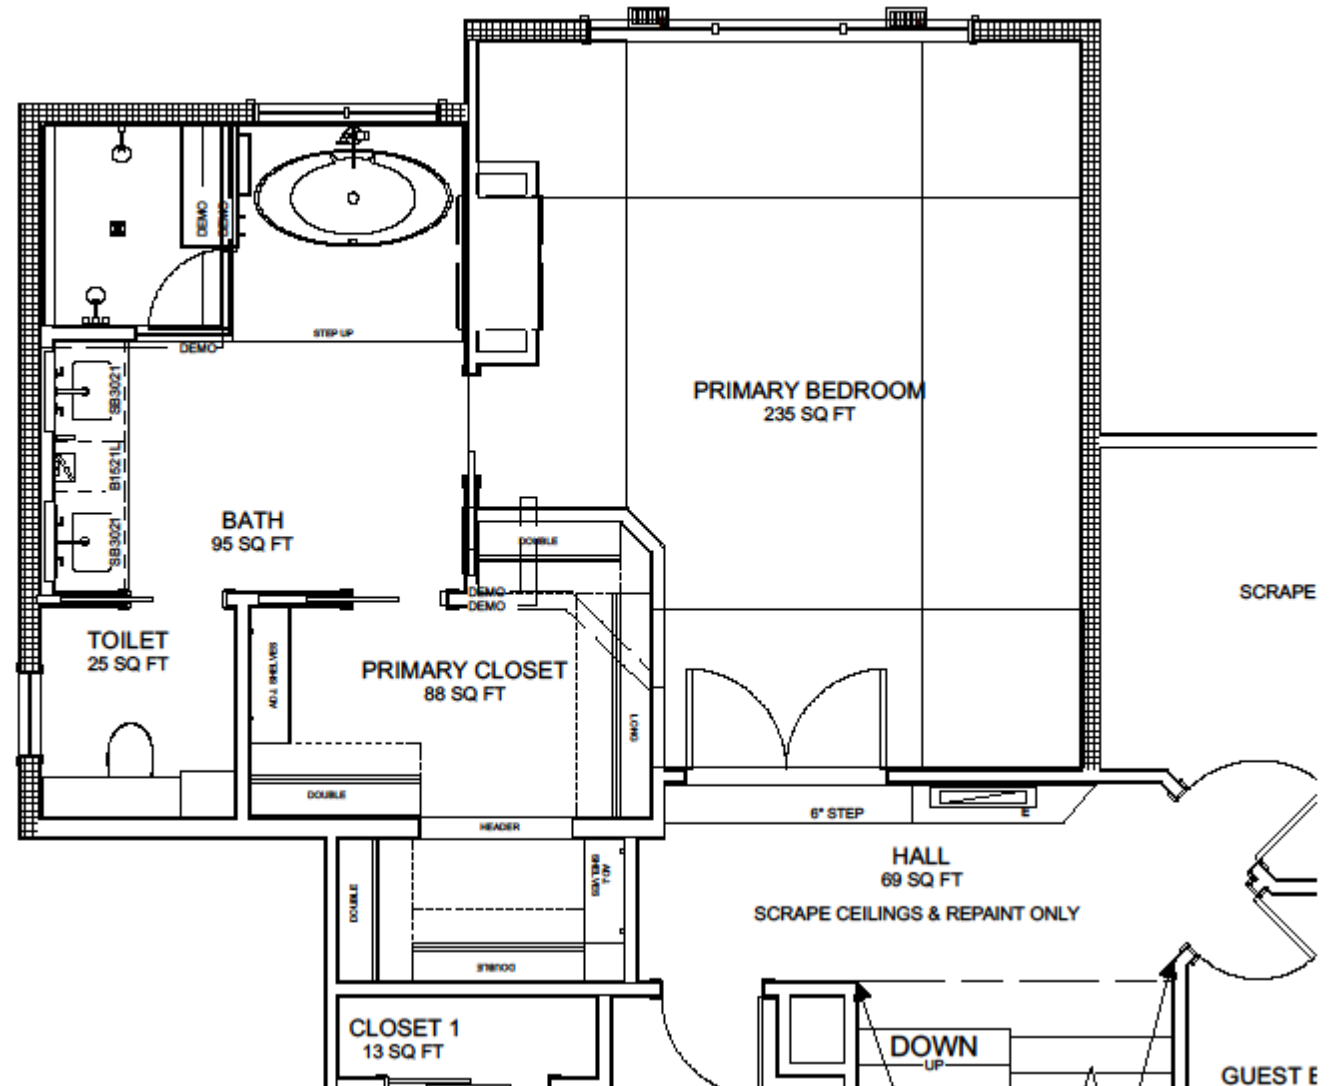

Summary

The original 1999 bathroom no longer functioned for the homeowners in this phase of life. In addition to outdated and failing materials, the existing floorplan was boxy and didn't use space efficiently. The shower was expanded to include a steam shower and bench, the change to a freestanding tub allowed for improved traffic flow. Visually the primary bathroom transformed into a calming spa atmosphere using natural materials like walnut and river stone. The custom walnut cabinetry hides the new steam unit while offering personalized storage. Natural light now pours into the once dated bathroom allowing the homeowners to flourish in their beautiful space.

Existing Floorplan

Remodel Floorplan

REMODEL

BEFORE

Wall mounted faucets offer a clean and open vanity surface with his
and hers sinks.

AFTER

BEFORE

A new larger glass enclosed shower allows for natural light to pour throughout the bathroom. While also adding space for a shower bench and dual shower heads.

AFTER

BEFORE

A new freestanding tub improved traffic flow from the shower and offers beautiful symmetry under the window.

AFTER

BEFORE

The existing fireplace remained through the design creating an intimate moment at the soaking tub and can now be seen through the shower.

AFTER

BEFORE

Walnut cabinetry offers additional storage and compliments the matching cabinetry in the bathroom.

AFTER

Layered lighting throughout the bathroom offers overhead and ambient lighting to enjoy the space at all hours.

REMODEL

REMODEL

Recessed vanity mirrors offer ample personal storage while creating a minimal illusion.

REMODEL

The vanity cabinetry
hides the steam unit
for the steam shower.

REMODEL

Dual shower heads create a spa like affect. The herringbone tiled shower continues into the vanity wall creating blurring the line between shower and bathroom.

REMODEL

An accent band of mosaic river stone highlights the natural materials in the space. Pulling all the colors together.

REMODEL

REMODEL

Matte countertops offer contrast against the polished mirrors and glass of the shower.

REMODEL

