

COMMERCIAL INTERIOR

BACKGROUND & CLIENT NEEDS

We were asked to pick up the ball where the previous contractor could not continue. Our client, the new store owner, was committed to opening her women's retail store on time with no exceptions or cutting corners. We picked up the ball from this point and with this understanding, we continued to design, construct and implement a design that was not only pleasing to the eye for all the shoppers that come through the door, but also worked and functioned with easy flow for a shopper's entertainment and for the community gatherings the owner hoped to host in the back half of her store.

CHALLENGES & SOLUTIONS

Although our design and construction went smoothly as did our implementation of the finishings, our biggest challenge was to come in mid-way under construction and meet our client's expectations of opening on time with a product that exceeded expectations.

___, ___, ___, & The ___ Crew were so easy to work with. I feel like the most important part of working with a builder is being able to do just that. They listen to the customer, designer, and architect to get to the end product. They seem to have solid partner relationships. They are problem solvers and great communicators. This was my second project that I chose ___ for, and I would choose them again.
