

ATCO

JIM LANDON
President
Frontec

Jim Landon was appointed to lead the ATCO Frontec Division in November 2017 and is responsible for ATCO's Facilities Operations and Maintenance, Disaster and Emergency Management and Workforce Housing Camp Services business. ATCO Frontec delivers Operational Support Services to government and commercial clients across Canada as well as in the USA and Europe.

After a successful 28-year career and having reached the rank of Colonel, Mr. Landon retired from the British Army in May 2017 and joined ATCO. His military career included operational tours in Northern Ireland, Bosnia, Kosovo, Sierra Leone, Iraq and Afghanistan. He was Commander of the British Army Training Unit in Suffield in Alberta from 2012 to 2015 before deciding to settle with his family in Canada.

Mr. Landon was educated at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst and has a Bachelor's degree in Law, a Masters in International Liaison and Communication and has completed the Institute of Corporate Directors Educations Program.
